INTRODUCTION

The Stetson is no longer completely out of place perched upon the top of a Doric column. The days of the wild, wild West seem to have given way for the influx of the new—and to our history—radical thoughts. Perhaps that one word THOUGHT is the key to the present situation wherein the Cowboy has come face to face with the classics. He has not, we might add, suffered in the conflict.

Gone or going are the days of strife—man against man and man against nature. We are entered upon the days of strife between man and book and, in a lesser sense, between man and man (Cowboy vs. Professor). Has the physical aspect of Wyoming—that aspect of which we are and have been proud for many years—given way to the metaphysical? Look about you and decide for yourself.

Within these pages we hope you will find remembrances of days (and nights) which, as many have said before us, will be the happiest in your life. Here you will find the faces which have become familiar to you through the trials and tribulations which are often associated with college life. Within these pages, be you vain or be you retiring, you should find the key to an imperishable record of yourself and your college life. Within—but no more, look and judge for yourself.

DENVER 1, COLORADO
Nov. 13, 1947

To the "WYO" Staff:

I am honored to be asked by the Staff of the 1948 WYO, the University's yearbook, to write its dedication to the late, great John Corbett.

However, I fear that I cannot qualify. The John Corbett I knew was associated with athletics. The John Corbett whose memory is to be honored in your forthcoming yearbook was, over and above all else, a builder of men and of character.

There are some who say collegiate athletics are not worthwhile. I hold differently. I so hold because of men like John Corbett. He, it is true, loved to win. He hated to lose. But in victory he was gracious. And in defeat, he took it, chin up, head erect, determined to go on. As an athletic chief, he instilled this in the young men who were schooled under him. Because of their association with John Corbett, the men of his athletic teams at Wyoming University went out into the everyday, work-a-day world better fitted for the tasks and the realities which they faced.

I know many of the men who played under John Corbett. And I know they are better men because of that association thru the formative years in which he was their mentor and their guide. These men could tell you how this gentle gentleman came out from Harvard to teach Wyoming Cowboys the ungentle art of football, and to instill in them a love for all competitive sports.

John Corbett came to Wyoming in 1914. With his advent a new spirit came to the institution - a spirit which has carried on largely because of the heritage which he left behind him at his passing.

I could write at great length of some of John Corbett's Wyoming victories. How, for example, in his first year his team defeated Utah 13 to 7. I might retell the story of the Mines game (Wyoming 16, Mines 6), revenge indeed for that first intercollegiate lacing the Cowboys suffered. Or that great 18 to 17 victory over the then powerful Creighton Club, and with a Wyoming team that from end to end, and in the backfield, averaged 152 pounds.

But this would not be the story of John Corbett.

For neither story of victory or story of defeat is the story of The Father of Athletics at Wyoming U. John Corbett's story can be told only by the men who played under him.

I wish I had.

Sincerely yours,

Jack Carberry

Dear "WYO" Staff:

It is with mingled feelings of incompetency and regret that I write about our old coach, John Corbett. These feelings stem from the knowledge that my limited talents will not allow me to adequately pen the kindness, the tolerance, the humanity and the capabilities of our departed friend.

He was our father confessor, friend and coach. A gruff greeting and a slap on the back would make us immediately forget our seemingly unsurmountable difficulties and, as they now say, "get us back on the beam". Strong, generous and human, with a sense of kindly Irish humor in his heart, he was a true gentleman.

A strong believer in the principle of "a sound mind in a sound body", he worked unselfishly and tirelessly on an effective athletic program at a time when athletics, as a general rule, were not "big time" as they are today. Minor sports were as important to him as the major ones, and he watched just as anxiously over his tumblers as he did his half-backs. He was, in truth, the father of athletics at the University.

Sincerely and cordially yours,

Glen G. Stanton

To the "WYO" Staff:

The dedication of the 1948 "WYO" to John Corbett, "father of Wyoming athletics", is a most eloquent and fitting tribute.

John Corbett - a magic name! A magnificent character! No finer influence ever existed in my life than that exerted by that splendid gentleman. He was a noble man. Possessed of an inimitable sense of humor; a deep understanding of human nature; an inquisitive and tireless mind, and a philosophy of life that was all inclusive, he was an inspiration to all who knew him.

We all loved John Corbett. He was purposeful, direct and outspoken. He insisted upon hard work, unimpeachable integrity and fair play. Lessons, in both athletics and academics, were accentuated by uniqueness of expression and nimbleness of wit. He taught us loyalty to our government, our institutions and our ideals. He moulded character. He set the example. May Wyoming continue to follow that example!

His Herculean efforts hastened his end. I feel that he laid down his life for the University of Wyoming. "Greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for a friend."

Sincerely yours,

To the "WYO" Staff:

John Corbett had been known for many years as the Grand Old Man of Wyoming University athletics and he well merited his title. When he came to Wyoming in 1914 to accept the position of coach and director of athletics, the athletic department existed in name only. Undaunted he worked increasingly to build up strong teams. There were defeats, of course, but there were also victories which indicated Wyoming teams were strong competition to conference teams. When he retired as coach of football and basketball, Wyoming had a record of which it was proud.

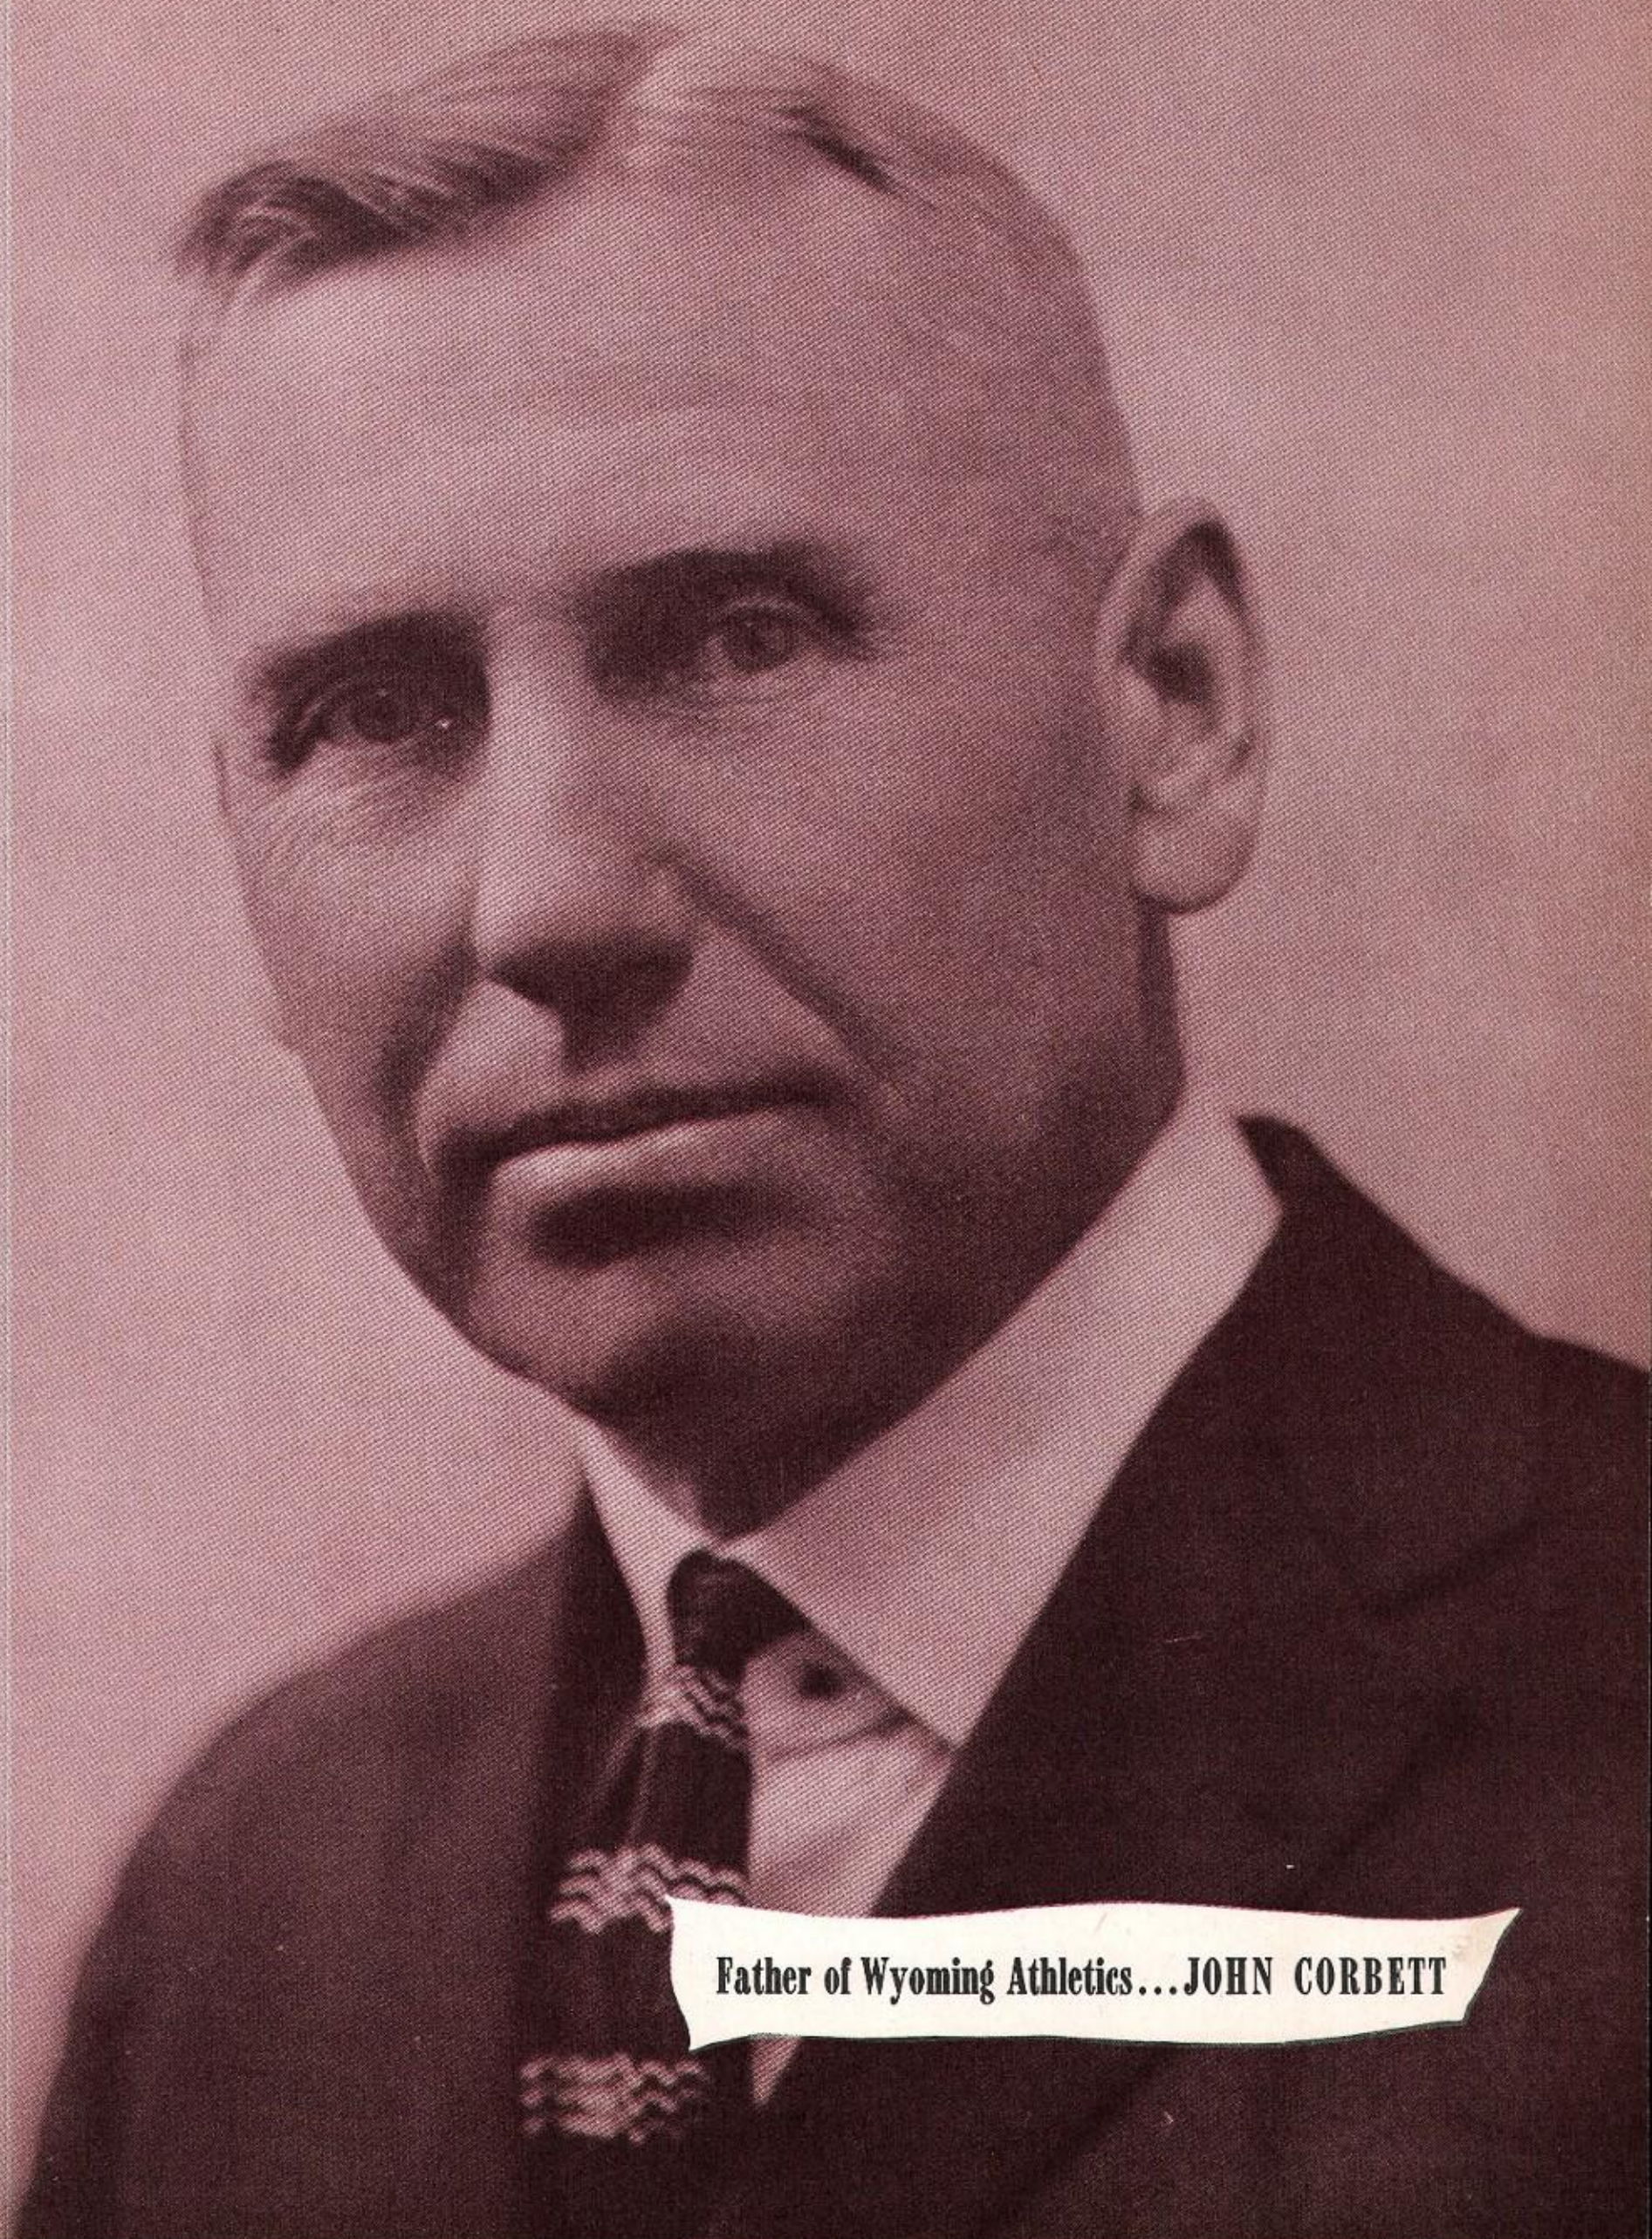

Coach Corbett had a gruff way of speaking which concealed the warm sympathy which he displayed to his injured players. Then too, he was capable of delivering an address of polished oratory at a University Assembly when the occasion called for it. In order to attract more students to the University, he promoted the Annual High School Basketball Tournaments with outstanding success.

John Corbett retired from active coaching in 1939. He died February 21, 1947, but to his friends and athletes, the old adage is brought to mind, "To live in hearts we leave behind is not to die."

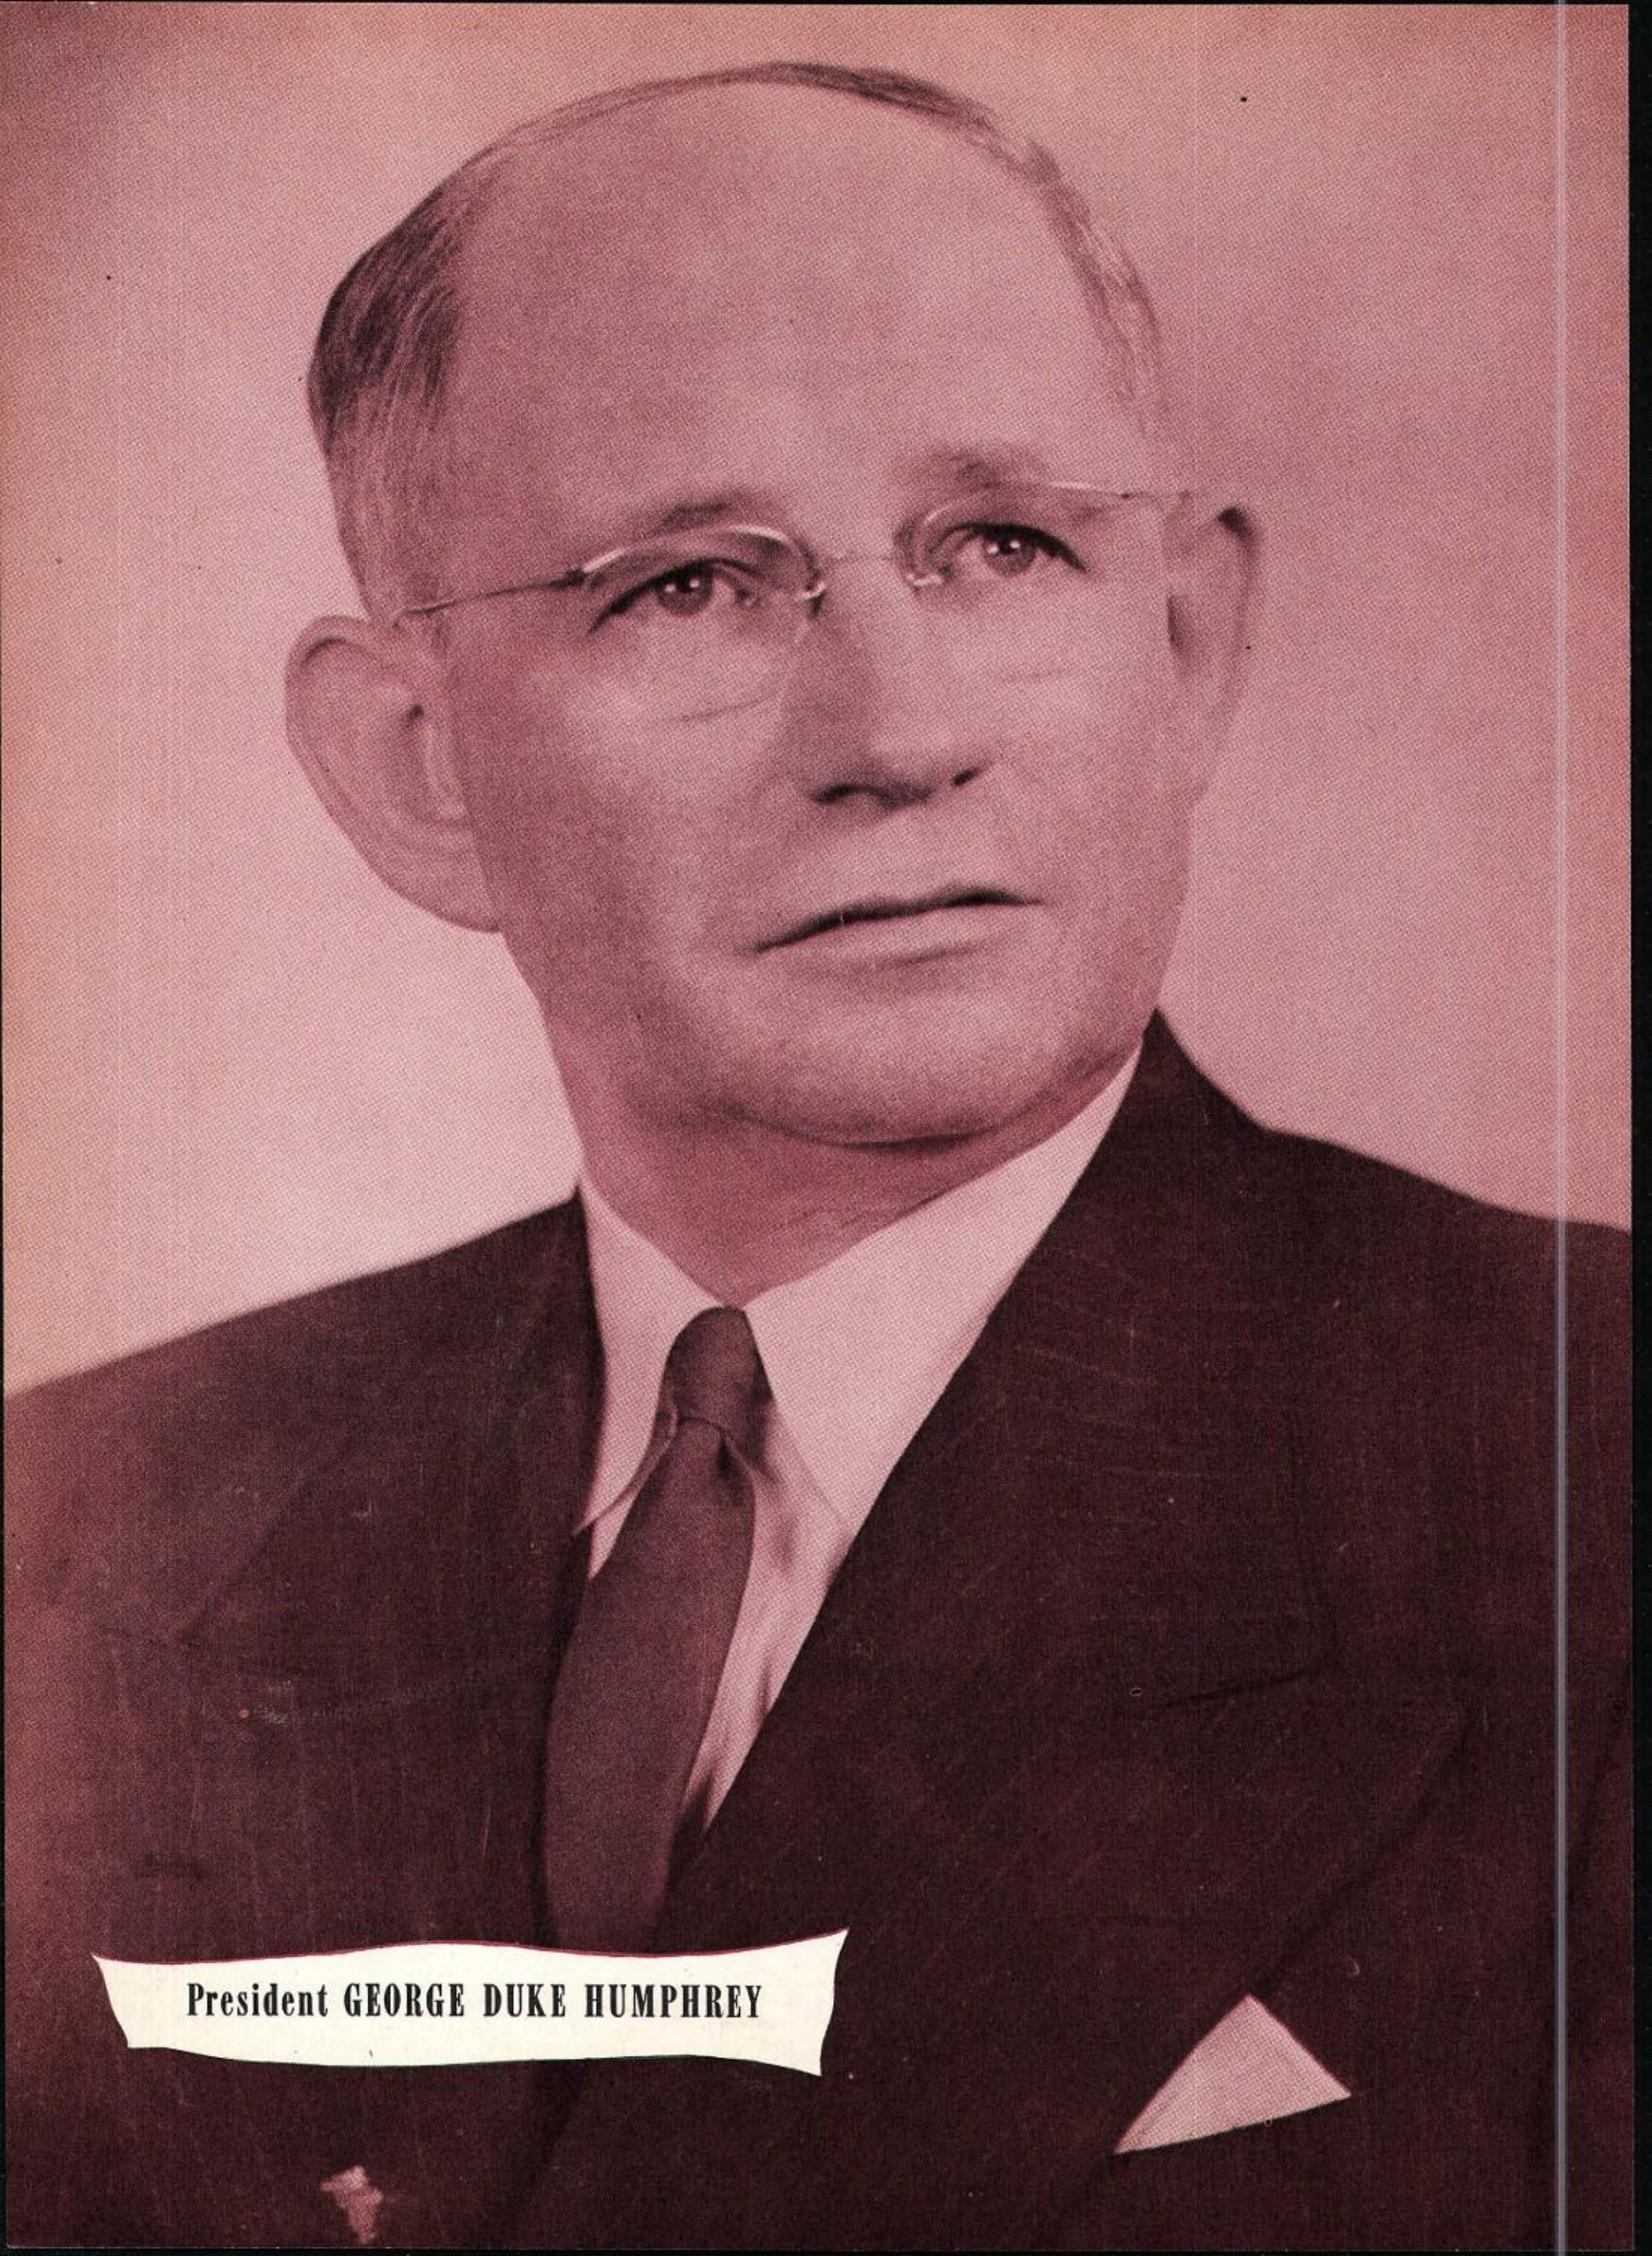

Yours truly,

PRESIDENT'S GREETING

A benevolent state has richly blessed you in providing a splendid state university for you. To you has been given freely that which great men of the past have attained with many sacrifices and much labor. The University of Wyoming, your state university, is pledged to serve you, the students, in every way possible. It is our ambition not only to help you to have a profitable and enjoyable stay as students here but also to prepare you to become the kind of citizens of whom the state will be proud.

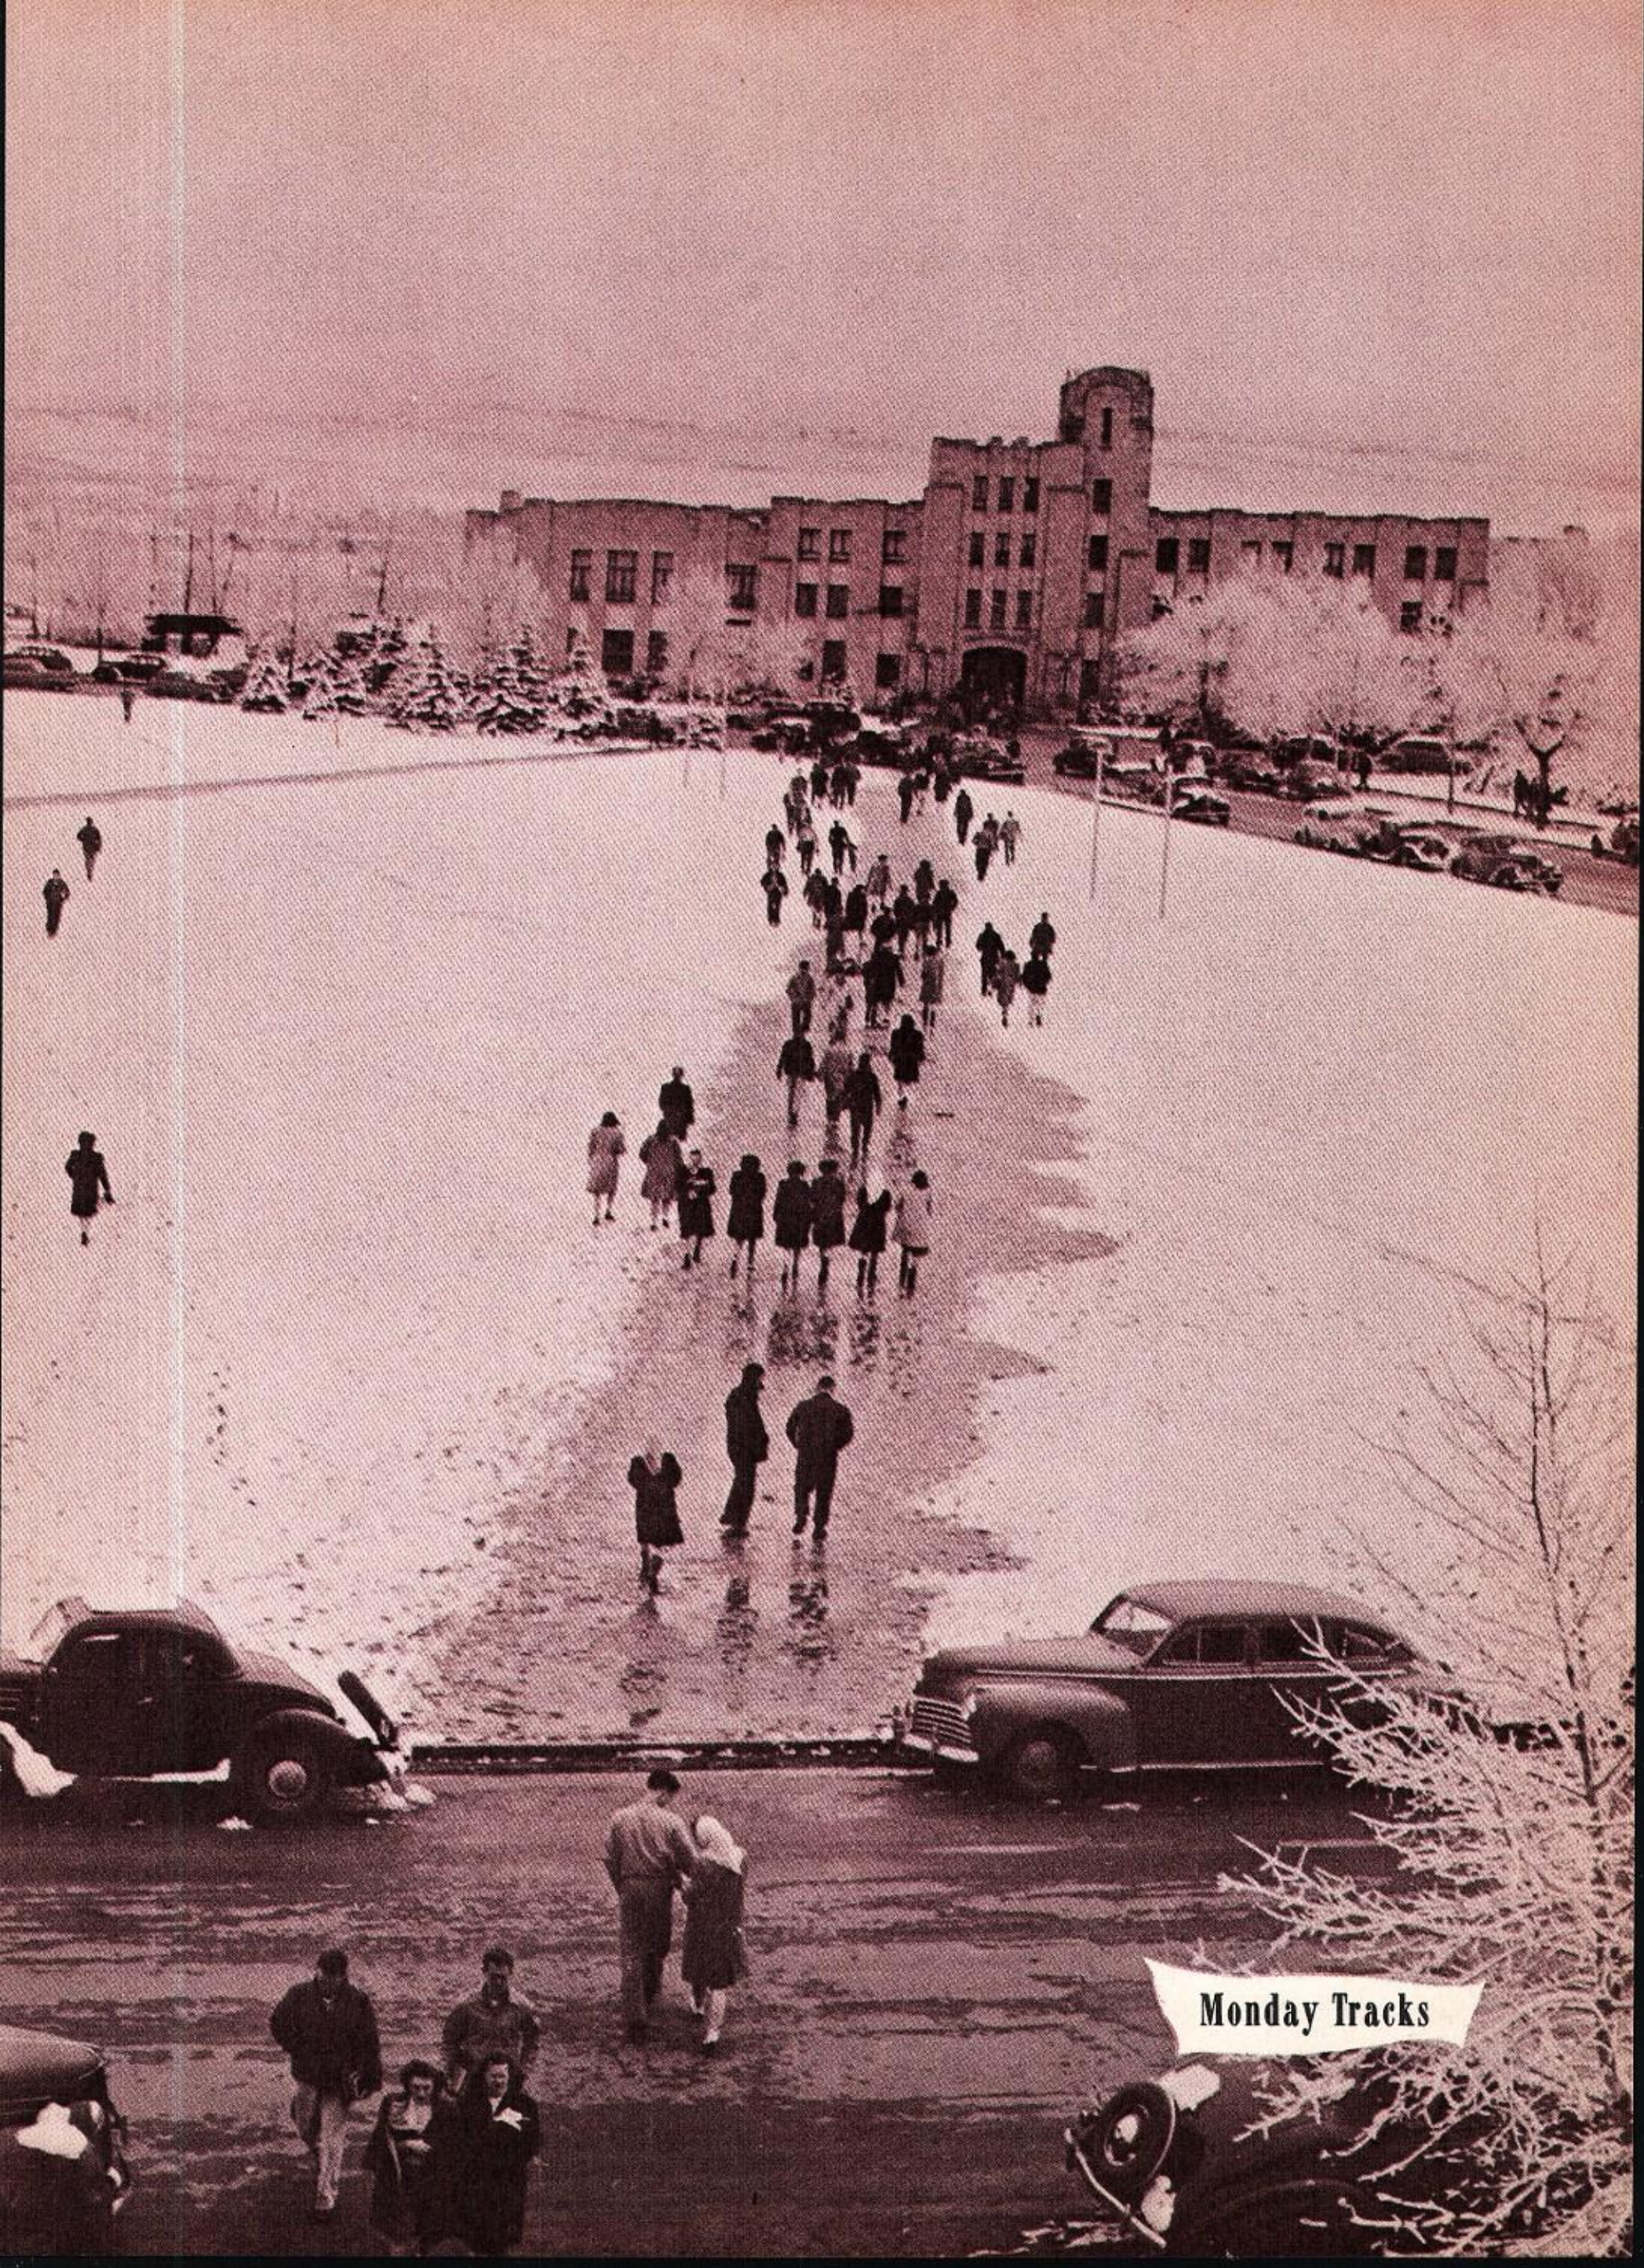

Today the world faces many and difficult problems. There are times when the future does not look bright. Civilization is undergoing one of the most severe tests it has ever faced. But, earnestly believing that tomorrow will be a day of deeper understandings and a day of world advancement and prosperity, we shall seek to give you every opportunity to prepare yourselves for living victoriously in the uncertain days ahead, thus bringing honor to you and reflecting credit on the University of Wyoming, your Alma Mater. Toward that goal we are striving; to that end we are dedicated.

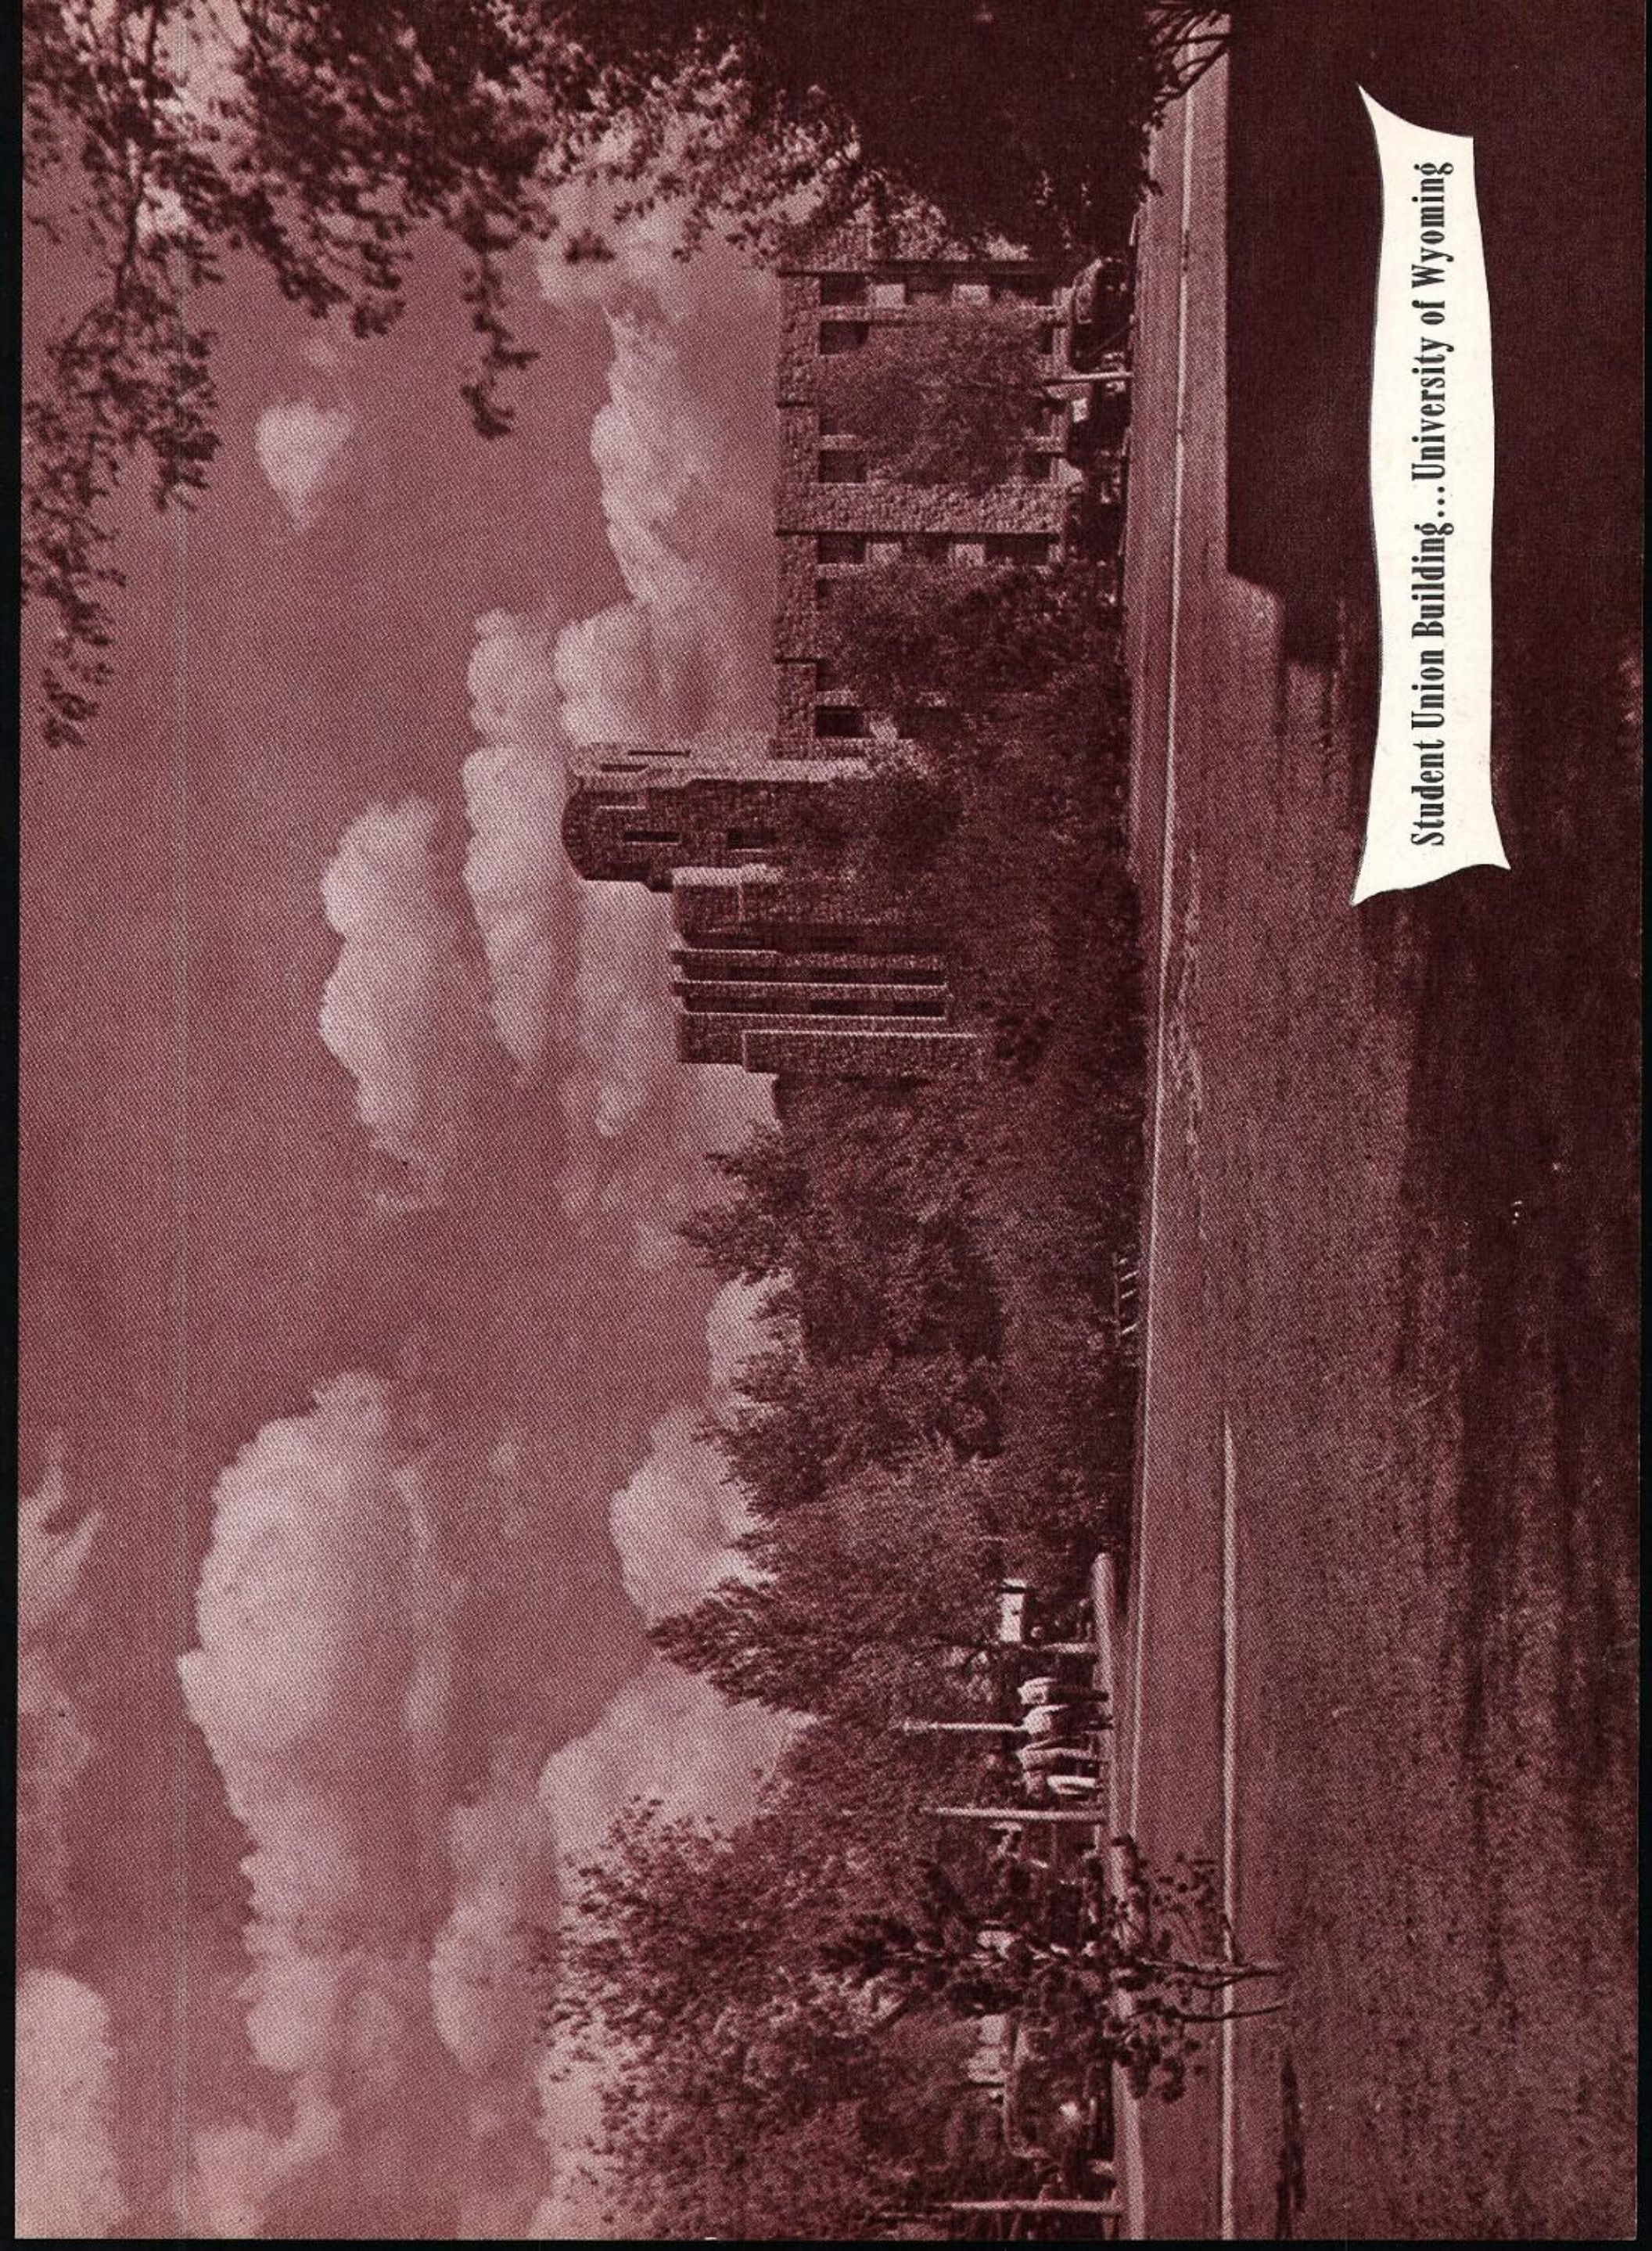

A sepia-toned photograph of a snowy street. In the foreground, a wide, snow-covered road is marked with several sets of diagonal tracks, likely from a sled or a small vehicle. The tracks lead from the bottom left towards the middle ground. In the middle ground, there is a large, multi-story brick building with many windows. To the left of the main building, there is a smaller, older-looking building with a mansard-style roof. Several bare trees and small evergreens are scattered around the buildings. A few vintage cars are parked or driving on the street. The sky is a uniform, light color, suggesting an overcast day.

ADMINISTRATION

The Honorable
LESTER C. HUNT

Governor of the State of Wyoming

Up from the South has come Dr. George Duke Humphrey to guide the University of Wyoming through some of its most important and formative years. He has become known throughout the campus to the students he guides for his infectious grin and his friendliness. Picture the University of Wyoming as a small world placed on the shoulders of this man and there you have the function of the University's President. It is a great load, but Dr. Humphrey has carried it as capably as any man could.

Watenpugh, Mr. Harold Del Monte, Mr. Joseph R. Sullivan, Mr. Clifford Hansen, Mr. Earle Burwell. Not shown is Mr. Tracy S. McCracken and Governor Lester C. Hunt, ex-officio member.

Board of Trustees

Able headed by Milward L. Simpson, the board of trustees has successfully faced a multitude of staggering problems, and while some of the battles are not yet won, the outcome of none of them is in doubt. The University, in the hands of these capable Wyomingites, will continue to progress.

Miss E. LUELLA GALLIVER

Dean of Women

Daily Miss Galliver is confronted with those sad-faced individuals who are feeling extreme remorse for those stolen hours of unionizing, and once in a while with a gale of that feminine chit-chat of people who just come in to find out who planted that tree over by the library and end up discussing those little problems of the heart, the party, and the new look. How the Dean accomplished this astonishing and varied job is somewhat of a problem to all of us, but it would be more of a problem if she weren't around.

MRS. ELIZABETH WOOD, Secretary

MISS E. LUELLA GALLIVER, Dean of Women

Only with an iron constitution, a will to live, senses of humor, and fairness, and a most supreme optimism could anyone begin to consider even making a stab at the job in which the University of Wyoming's Dean Galliver has been serving for many years. The Dean's phenomenal memory (she can call nearly every girl on the U.W. campus by name!!), and the extreme tact which she uses in dealing with everyday problems or real trouble with college adjustment . . . which, we assure you, goes on for at least four years . . . has made her one of the most respected and trusted members of the faculty.

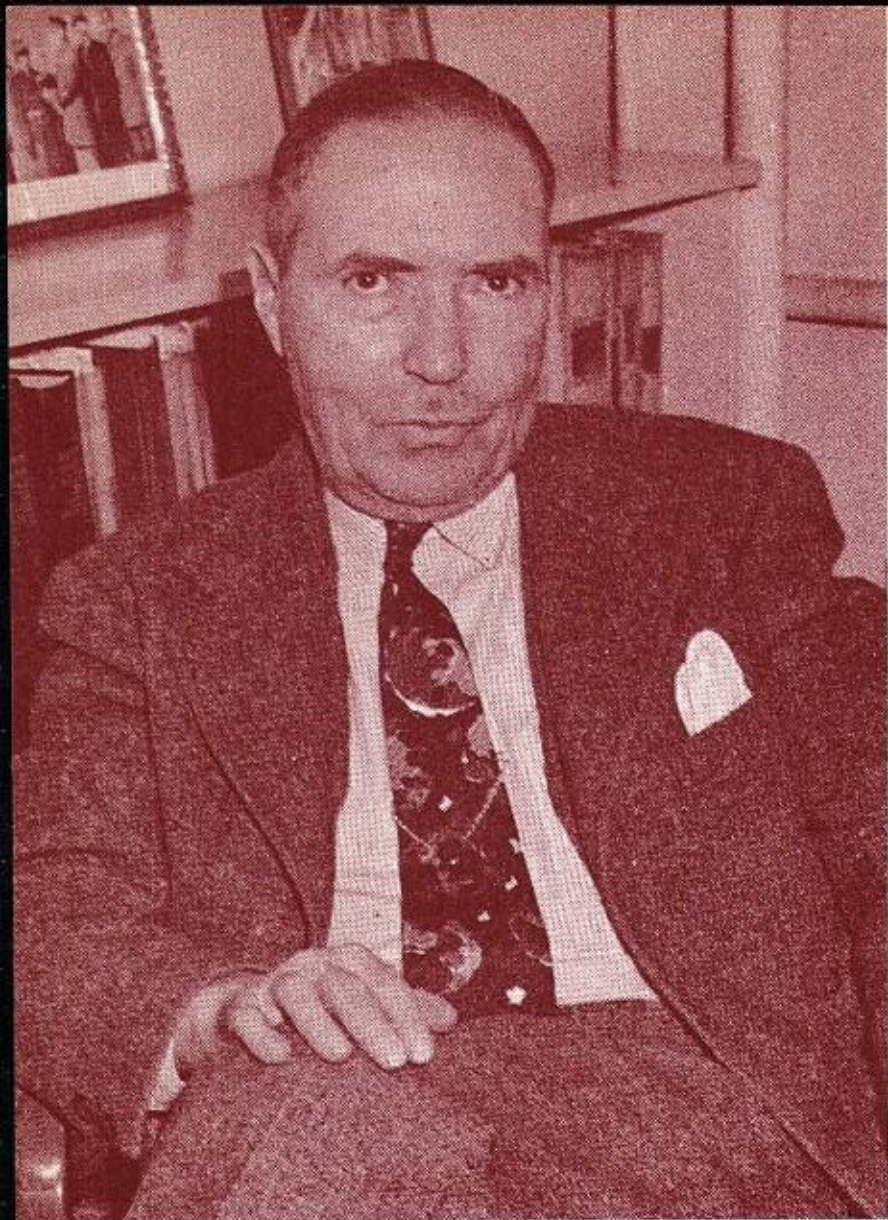

DEAN KEENEY

One of the most worried, hurried, and completely harried men on the campus is none other than Dean A. L. Keeney. And what else could anyone be when confronted with the job of watching over, if possible, two thousand male students. If these aforementioned male students were of the quiet type the job might be considered as purely administrative, but then there is the problem of finding one out of every twenty-five of those Wyoming Cowboys who could be considered the quiet type. There are various and sundry local landmarks in Laramie which anyone who wants to be "one of the fellas" must study with definite thoroughness. Then there is that perennial problem of the boy meets girl situation . . . and what is any human being to do when confronted with the basic elements of college life. Nonetheless, though confronted with promotions, demotions, emotions, etc., the Dean still leads a fairly stable life, manages to keep his equilibrium amid the uproar and is always ready with a handshake and some good advice.

FAY SMITH

Cost of living high? So is the cost of running a University. Where the University of Wyoming gets its money and how that money is spent is under the capable direction of Fay E. Smith, Comptroller. Mr. Smith is an ex-officio member of the Board of Trustees and as such acts as secretary to the Board. His is a job of behind the scene co-ordination which almost always receives only small recognition. In addition to his other duties, Mr. Smith is also in charge of the varied cultural programs which are presented at the University.

DR. W. C. REUSSER

Among the least publicized but one of the most important administrative offices on the campus is that headed by Dr. W. C. Reusser, who has a tongue-twisting title which reads (at least in part) Director of the Division of Adult Education and Community Service, Acting Director of the Department of Personnel and Guidance, etc., ad infinitum, and so on. That means, in short, that Dr. Reusser must oversee the intricate business of filing and rating the many tests which pour into his offices not only from the University but from all over the state. Another big job is that of sending out all correspondence courses from the University as well as sending out films and recordings from the University for publicity purposes. Though the existence of the office of Dr. Reusser may be unknown to many of the students, they profit unknowingly from his administrative activities.

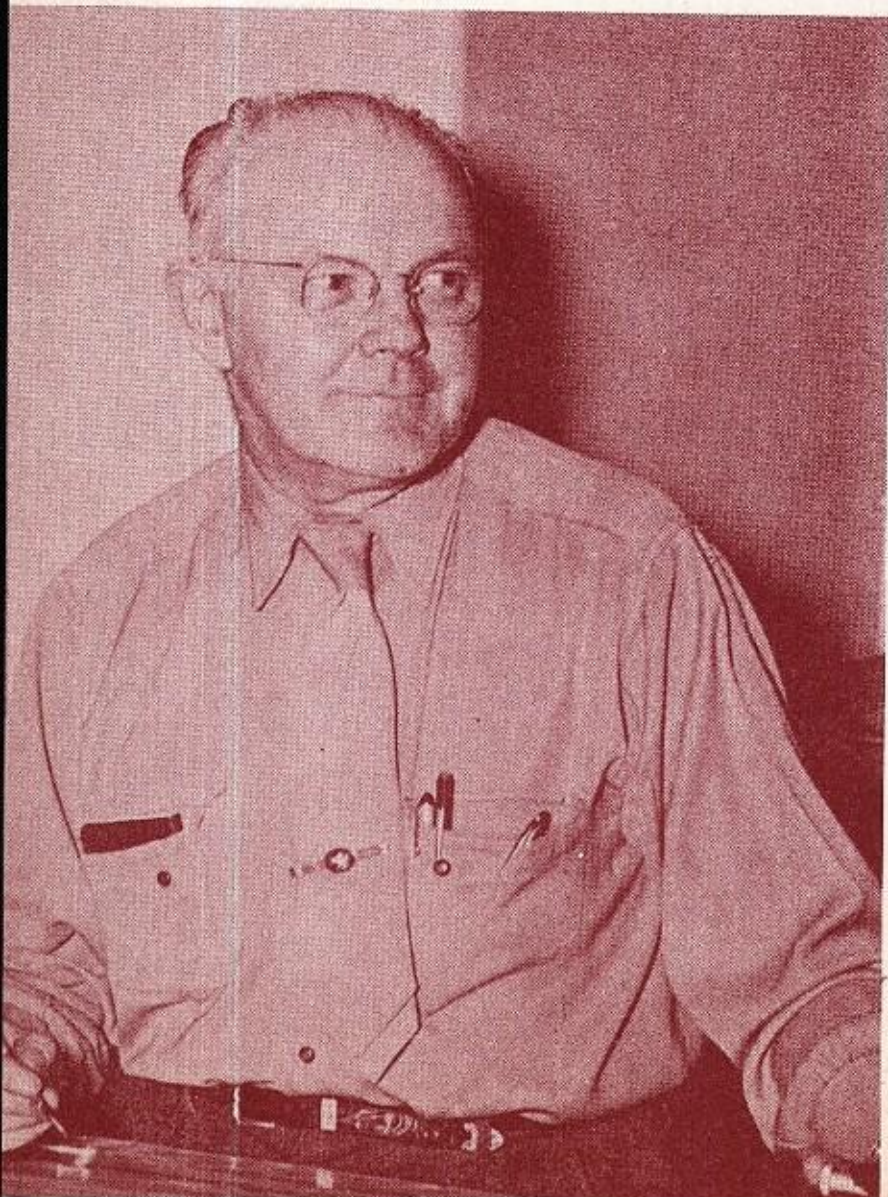

EDNA TICHAC

Amid assorted screams, yells, giggles, broken coffee cups, old cigarette butts, and defaced tables plus a multitude of varied complaints and questions works Mrs. Edna Tichac, director of the University of Wyoming's Student Union. The only reason that Mrs. Tichac has not had a nervous breakdown from the strain is probably the pace which she has set for herself which keeps her going so fast that she doesn't have time for such trivial things. She has been in her present capacity for a number of years and has done an excellent job of keeping the focal spot for the University students in some semblance of order. It is one of the biggest jobs on the campus with more gripes than credit given in return, but Edna continues to take it on the chin and still be able to laugh about the whole thing.

C. B. JENSEN

If you are at a basketball game or a dance in the Union ballroom and somebody says to you, and we quote, "You can't smoke that cigarette here!" that man is undoubtedly Mr. Jensen, head of the Buildings and Grounds Department. It is Mr. Jensen who sees to it that all of the buildings on the campus are kept in repair and that the campus itself is mowed, weeded, etc. It is also Mr. C. B. Jensen we have to thank for the happy gurgle of little irrigation ditches in the spring. You don't think the campus is so big, huh? Then go over and trade jobs with Mr. Jensen for a few days and see if you don't change your opinion.

MC WHINNIE

At certain times of the year there is undoubtedly no more thoroughly discussed individual than Mr. R. E. McWhinnie, Registrar of the University of Wyoming. Those times are registration and time for grades to "come out." On this page we present a birds-eye view of what registration means to the student body. But do the students realize what this does to Mr. McWhinnie? To coin a phrase, "Oh, confusion!" There seems to be no tangible method of illustrating what the coming of grades means to the student unless we portray him standing silently at attention... with a .45 at his head.)

FALL QUARTER SKETCH

*Listen, my children, and you shall hear
Of the quarter gone before it was here.*

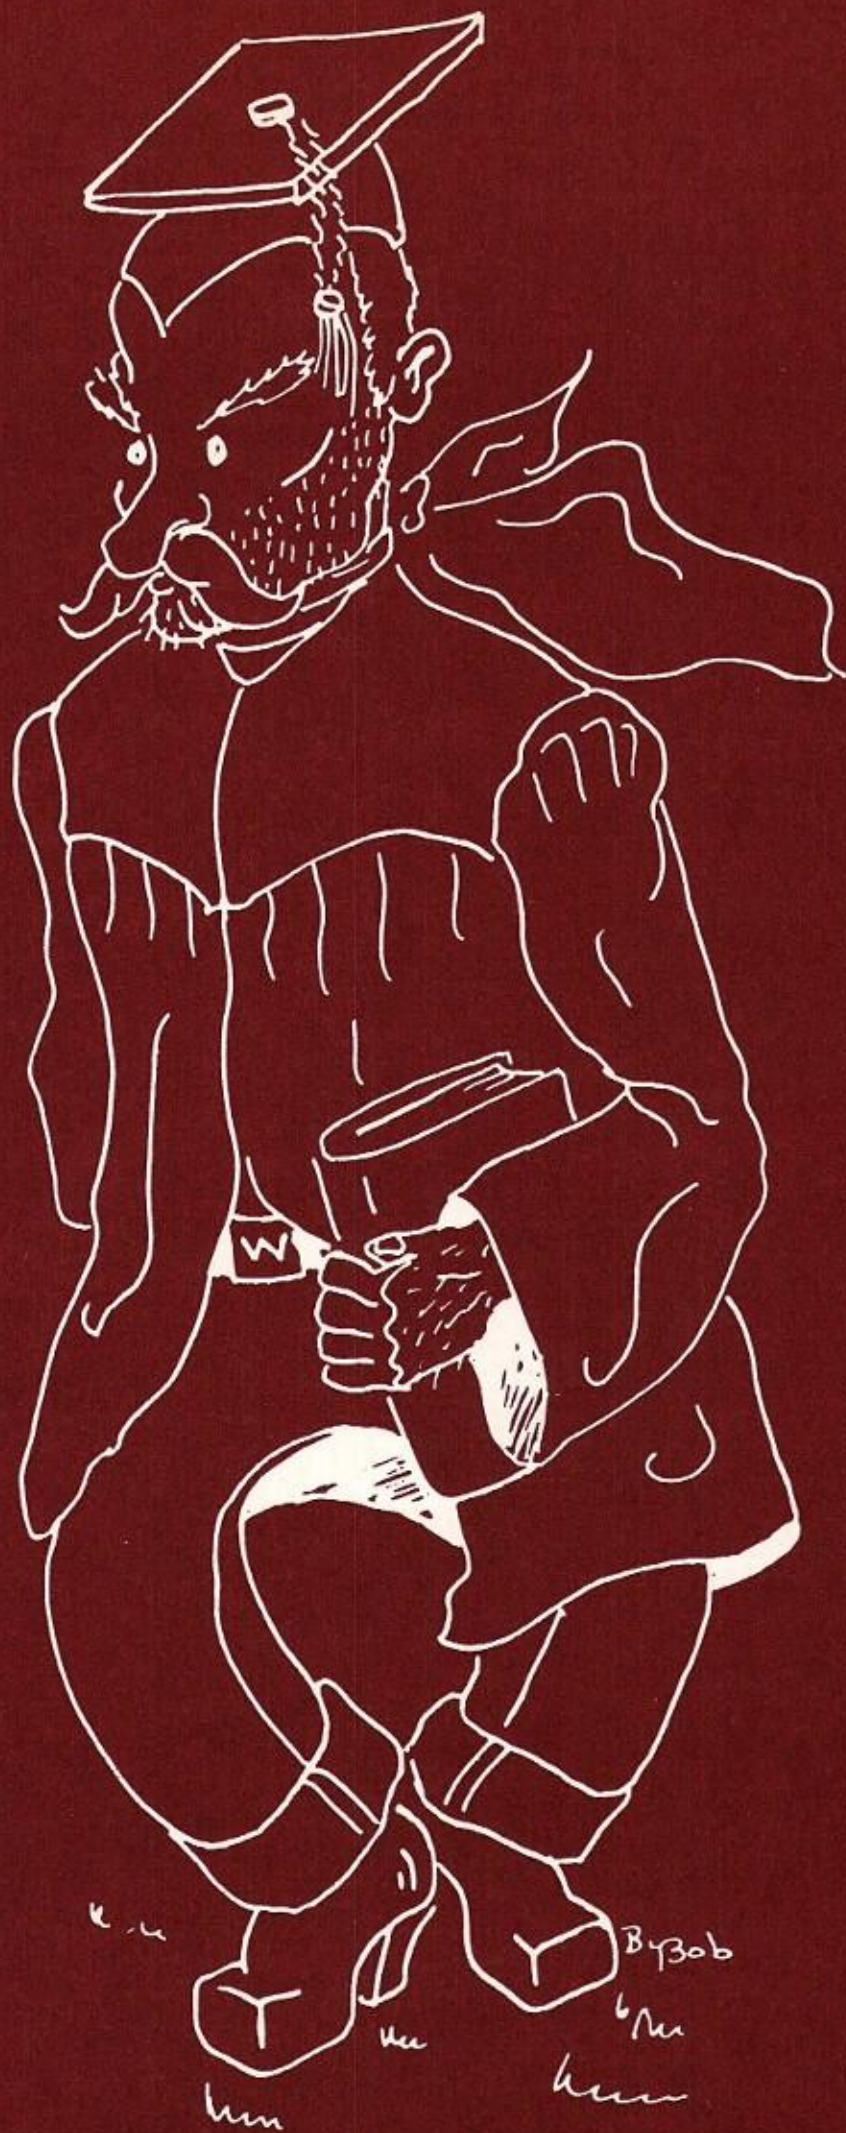

"Oh, why am I here—what did I come for—who are all these people—I don't have a book—quit slapping my back, I'll join your organization—I love that hat," said all the funny people. Can you think of anything lovelier than fall quarter with its quiet repose and lovely parties? No...? Well, now I can't understand why. There were no books... and you're griping? That, my friends, is a nice legitimate reason for a PARTY. Even when books came in there seems to have been very few people who could afford them... except the little men with requisitions.

Then descended Homecoming, replete with alums, sunny skies, a football team (at last), and two Colonnas with but one mule. Joy Delatour reigned as Homecoming queen (that was a fine job of campaigning, Tri Delt), and one poor AP teletyper nearly lost his job when he wired the score of the game. They thought he had been celebrating the event in true Wyoming fashion. Many students journeyed to out-of-town games such as those at Greeley, Boulder, and Denver (the Pi Phis and Sig Alphas had a lovely time, thank you).

Queens, queens, queens! Jean Watson (Engineer Queen), the Hayes sisters running off with just a few (uh-huh) of the honors at the Little International... just a few of the many royal personages reigning. Then descended the final blow... FINALS. Just a feeeeee-ww down slips were sent out. Oh, pish-posh! Let's forget it (if we can).

While Mr. Hollister regressed

Mr. Clough was spelling words
And learning pronunciations
While Dr. Nussbaum, text in hand,
Learned histories of the nations.

Our Dr. Bruce was "sweating out"
His Elementary Psych
And "Doc" Clarke hunted animals
Out riding on his bike

Mr. Barr could add and multiply
Math was just his dish
Mundell went into Business Ad
To catch some bigger "fish".

Dr. Burns was shaving sheep
No wool got in his eyes,
While Lindenstruth, syringe in hand
Was vaccinating flies.

And Miss McKittrick used to cook
And balance household budgets
Dr. Cinnamon played with tinker toys
And other fuddy-dudgets.

But. "Doc" McGee was not in view
He'd fallen in "Macaulay";
And Mr. Person's bridge collapsed
His Mother said, "What folly!"

His Mother did not seeth him

Dr. Dickman spoke his French
And cursed the English noun
While Mr. Vass his garden hoed,
The Carrots turning brown.

Then Dr. Knight his rock would grip
And throw it, not surmise it
While Dr. Solheim chopped a tree
In vain, to analyze it.

COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

Polishing their plowshares with diligence and getting on friendly terms with all the livestock in sight is the four year job of all the "fellas and gals" in the University's College of Agriculture. So what! Maybe they do just cackle or whinney when the rest of us utter a cheery (you bet!) "Good Morning." Who can prove that psychologists aren't right about environment? They trot gaily from class to class and class to stock farm to see all their new found friends. Now and then they wander into the Union, as we all will, and they seem to feel right at home. Well, maybe they're right.

Trail boss for this hard working outfit is Dean J. A. Hill, who has the responsibility for riding herd, at least scholastically, over all budding young ranchers and farmers. Not a little job by a long way. Dean Hill keeps the standards high, with Wyoming's Ag College ranking among those top in the nation. What could be finer here in "the far and mighty West,"

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

Along with the law students at the University of Wyoming are those other hard working individuals known as the engineers. When, after spending the day and perhaps a portion of the evening hours in the dank caverns of the "engine" hall, they emerge into the light of day or late evening with that quizzical expression which is often found also upon the faces of emerging ground hogs. Somewhat puzzled by the phenomenal light of day these people sometimes, but not often, wander into the habitats of their fellow students, but their stay is usually only momentary.

Cracking the proverbial whip over these industrious students is Dean Ralph D. Goodrich. The Dean rules over all three schools of engineering . . . civil, electrical, and mechanical. The men and some of the few women studying for those all important future jobs find in Dean Goodrich that advice and experience which is so vital to study in the present and their fields of work on that hazy horizon of tomorrow.

Dean O. C. Schwiering

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

Education... that's what we University of Wyoming students are here for, in case some people are stumped by the term... is one of the main college divisions on the University campus. One of the major problems of the postwar era is the gigantic task of supplying teachers to the growing population. Magazines, newspapers, and all periodicals daily charge the urgent need for an educated tomorrow. Wyoming's College of Education is now supplying teachers for Wyoming and many other states, but the need is still great and grows with every passing year. Dean O. C. Schwiering presides over Wyoming's future "educators" who roam the western end of the campus. The Dean himself is characterized by one of the biggest and most infectious grins owned by the faculty, at large, plus a tremendous sense of humor and a severe case of amiability. Dean Schwiering undoubtedly has one of the most important jobs on the University Campus, and long may the crew-cut wave.

Practice Teaching Class at the University High School

Dean Robert Hamilton

COLLEGE OF LAW

which might glance up from his pursuits to mutter "Hrrrump" and again crawl back behind some other volume which just might be entitled LAW. If this happens that was a Lawyer you saw...at least he hopes to be some day. These poor creatures sometimes stray off to a movie for a moment of relaxation, but they must be kept in a dark musty place for preservations sake.

The big Dick in their Tracy outfit (that was intended to be a pun...lowest form of humor, you know) is none less than Dean R. R. Hamilton, who successfully guides his charges through the mazes and complexities of their many pursuits. In his hands is the fate of one of the finest law schools in the country, and in very capable hands it is.

If one digs far enough behind those monstrous tomes which are found in the upper reaches of the University library, they are liable to be confronted with a rather strange animal

"Moot" trial in the Salt Mine.

Dean O. H. Rechard

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS

Above the portals of a certain building on the University of Wyoming campus which houses a certain college is a certain motto which reads... "PREPARE FOR COMPLETE LIVING"... SPENSER. The people in this certain college have been trying for years to follow this advice to the best of their ability and their only reward has been down slips. They eagerly discuss their classes ("Should we cut this one?") while relaxing on the front steps in the early fall and late spring, and while curing a nicotine fit in the lobby the rest of the time. Still they get down slips. It is so difficult to get a well rounded education.

The poor unfortunate who has the job of trying to maintain law and order of some proportions in this melee as well as removing some of the luckier seniors in the spring to make room for Frosh in the fall is Dean O. H. Rechard. At this point we were speechless. Emotion running rampant in our hearts we can only offer our sincerest condolences to the Dean and hope he can stand it for a few more years.

Dean E. D. Hunton

COLLEGE OF COMMERCE

Coming under the heading of a nice place to go crazy, if you can't find anything better to do and have just recently found yourself incapable of carrying on in law school much longer, is the north side of the Liberal Arts building. There in dark seclusion and amid the clatter of various and sundry machines of torture, work the students who are members of the University's College of Commerce. With the exception of the music hall, there is probably no building on the campus from which such ghastly sound effects persist in emitting. People emerge from this portion of the old L.A. with bloodshot visual apparatus and emaciated digits, and are sometimes heard adding up long columns of figures and ending up with a grand total of zero.

Master of this mechanical madhouse is Dean Deane E. Hunton, The Dean (or Deane) has taken over the newly established college and turned it into a smoothly running concern. His is the job of seeing to it that business heads replace what decorative devices or otherwise commonly rest on the shoulders of Cowboy students, and that is no small job. Just add it up, and you'll get as a result Wyoming's new College of Commerce.

I'VE SEEN BETTER HEADS ON A . . . !

Those too seldom considered people at Wyoming are the intellectual elite, better known to the peons of education as the "grads". These are the people we may find in any of the universities or colleges who have completed the four years of toil and pain as undergraduates and have reached those heights from which they can watch the rest toiling up that insurmountable grade. To these people the most disturbing word which may be mentioned is "thesis" . . . no less. Our hearts go out to them but we can't quite make that long reach.

Dean and guide of all these intellectuals is Dr. Robert H. Bruce, who holds forth in the centrally located Liberal Arts building. He is a psychologist of top grade and would be in a most hapless condition if this were not so, for how else could he understand some of the situations in which a graduate student finds himself. One of the most interesting of the lecturers on the University campus, Dr. Bruce is equally at home over a cup of coffee . . . if it is accompanied by his pipe. He will probably be remembered long by the undergraduates in the "Psych" department because he so well understands the need of the hard-pressed student for that ten o'clock cup of coffee.

FRESHMEN...

*The Freshmen—helpless—held in thrall
By coming years of college
Tho' Sophomores now, they're least of all
In this mad race for knowledge.*

*The classes pass, each in its turn,
Awaiting graduation;
And each attempts the least to learn.
They call this education!*

HEAD COACH BOWDEN WYATT DIAGRAMS A NEW PLAY AS FRESHMAN COACH JOHN BAILEY, BACKFIELD COACH LEONARD COFFMAN, AND LINE COACH DICK HITT LOOK ON.

CINDERELLA PUNCHERS

Coach Bowden Wyatt and his three assistants fielded one of the best Puncher teams ever to represent Wyoming. Wyatt brought along the Tennessee system and every time Scott Welch or any Wyoming quarterback made that "trademark sweep" over the center, the fans knew there were plenty of tricks in the bag. Bowden Wyatt, rated by all pre-season figuring as doomed to the cellar, was named "Coach of the Year" for bringing Wyoming out of the last notch for the first time since 1941.

The Punchers were noted for playing as fighting unit, but individual stars were w. Larry "Shad" Martoglio was almost unanimous choice as all-conference guard. Bob Beckett, Cowboy end, was chosen on the Denver Post all-conference team.

Playing as underdogs in most every game, Wyoming soon was a much feared club, upsetting Brigham Young, trouncing Colorado Mines and delighting Homecomers by walloping Utah State 33-19, 1946 conference champs. The Punchers lost their final home game to Utah. The season's record was 5 and 4.

It was Wyoming's best year since 1935 when Dutch Witte's Cowhands won four and lost four. Only other teams in modern history to surpass the 1947 record were the 1931 and 1925 clubs.

Capt. Ed Chenoweth, Earl Ray and Carl Selmer completed their competition with the Punchers, and John Loop, Carl Rollins and Francis Connor still have eligibility left but have completed their study courses.

RATLIFF SPARKLES AS TRIPLE-THREAT

Little Jack Ratliff led the underdog Wyoming Cowboys to a brilliant 12-7 triumph over Brigham Young University in the 1947 opening conference game at Corbett Field. Coach Bowden Wyatt's "Tennessee System" produced two touchdowns in the first sixteen minutes of play.

Ratliff passed to Beckett and then to LeRoy Pearce in the end zone for the first touchdown. Minutes later, Ratliff intercepted Olson's pass about midfield, picked up beautiful blocking and scored again.

Ratliff's punting was superb, averaging 48.6 yards a try. Tight defensive play protected the Cowboy lead with Scott Welch, Ray Haskins, and line-backer Fred Taucher outstanding in secondary defensive play, and Bob Beckett, John Kosich, Larry Martoglio, Francis Connor and George Waters leading line play.

Scotty Deeds slipped through the line for BYU's only score late in the final period.

More than 5000 persons saw the game, played on a fast, dry field in perfect football weather.

WYOMING RUNS ROUGHSHOD OVER HELPLESS MINERS

Wyoming exploded with the biggest flurry of touchdowns since 1931 for their second straight win at Corbet Field, humbling Colorado Mines 53-6. Nearly everyone figured in the scoring melee and Wyoming's eight touchdowns were scored by seven different players, Shadow Ray getting two.

Hank Kolasinski, Ray and Ratliff led offensive play the first half after Mines grabbed a 6-0 lead. The Mines' line held up under the Puncher pounding for three periods, but the Pokes scored 32 points the final period.

Kolasinski scored first for the Pokes after a long run by LeRoy Pearce set up the score. Martoglio converted to give the Pokes a 7-6 lead. Ratliff passed to George Grace for the second tally, Martoglio converting again.

Third period, Scott Welch made his touchdown on a pass from Ratliff. The game was a pretty sane contest up to this time, Wyoming leading 21-6.

But the last period: Ray came in, ran back a Miner punt the first play for a TD. From then on the game was a rout. Ray scored again after Carl Rollins recovered a fumble. Bob Straits fell on another fumble minutes later and a pass from Ray to Bloom netted another score.

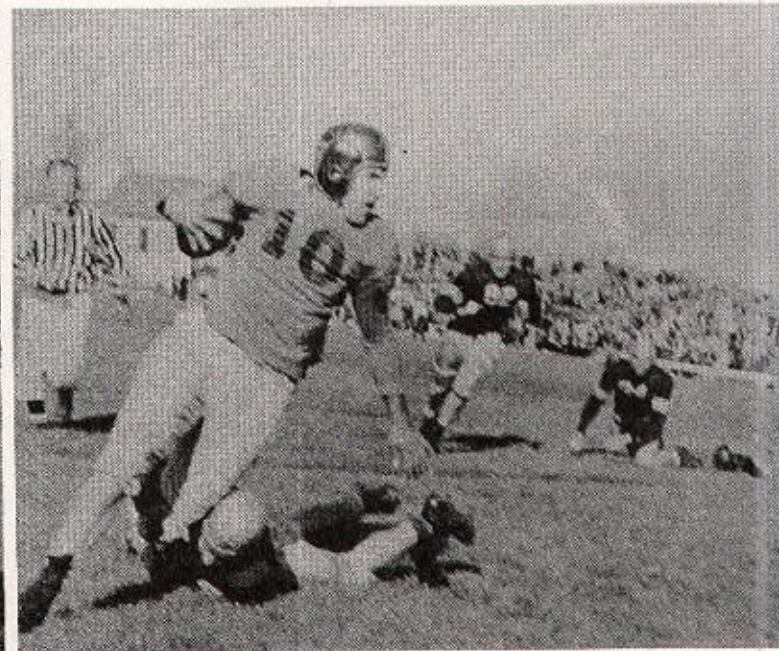

Billy Shurley scored next after Joe Kienlen recovered a fumble. Dave Martinez fell on the next Mines fumble and Earl Andre carried the pigskin over for the final Wyoming tally.

The Punchers rolled up 515 yards from scrimmage in a great day for the Wyatt men.

COWBOYS DROP TOUGHIE TO TITLE-BOUND UTAH

A powerful line and some slippery backs gave Utah's powerful Redskins a 26-7 victory over the Pokes before the biggest crowd of the season at Laramie in the last home game of the season.

Frank Nelson led the Utah offense by making 117 yards in 20 tries, including two touchdown dashes.

Wyoming's lone tally came in third quarter when Jim O'Brien smacked over from the six-inch line after run by Pearce and a pass O'Brien to Grace set up the score.

Utah scored three times third quarter and added another late in the game. The Puncers battled all the way, earning 12 first downs to Utah's 17.

In the remaining Puncer games Wyoming trounced Colorado State at Greeley, 44-14, then ended the season with successive away-from-home losses to Denver 27-7, Colorado 21-6, and Colorado Aggies 21-6.

Handicapped by heavy injuries, the undermanned Puncers were still a threat in every contest. At one time Ed Chenoweth was the only right end left in playing condition.

TEAM CAPTAIN ED CHENOWETH

The Cowboys rolled up 175 points in their nine games while the Puncher opposition scored 168. This was a record score for a Wyoming team, surpassing the 160 points scored by Choppy Rhoades' 1931 eleven.

Earl "Shadow" Ray was the team's leading scorer with four touchdowns and three points after T.D. for 27 points Pearce was second with four touchdowns while Ratliff and Kolasinski each scored three.

CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS

The 1947 baseball team boasted the greatest collection of sluggers ever together on a Cowboy diamond. In winning the conference championship, seven of the first nine finished the 16-game season with batting averages of .300 or better.

In the opening game of the season at Colorado Springs, Wyoming's Buck Newell was nicked for 12 hits, which, coupled with six Poke errors, was too much for the sluggers, Wyoming losing 7 to 6.

Frank Caudillo, number one Wyoming chucker, let Colorado College down with 3 hits in the second game of the series, the Cowboys holding their fielding errors to 3 to win easily 7 to 1.

The next game with CC saw the tables turned with the CC pitcher Stewart stymieing Wyomings batting power. Wyoming's 5 hits failed to net a run, Colorado College winning 5 to 0.

Colorado Mines felt the wrath of the Pokes big bats in the fourth game of the season. Wyoming teed off for 10 runs in the fourth inning and ran the score up to 27 to 1, garnering 27 hits while Newell held Mines' batters to 7.

The next day Wyoming, while out-erroring Mines 6 to 5, hit safely 23 times to win 19 to 5.

Wyoming went on to outslug Denver University 16 to 11, making 10 runs the fifth inning. Wyoming pitching was good but seven fielding bobbles kept the game in doubt.

Wyoming suffered her second shut-out of the season against Colorado State when Dreith blanked the Pokes 8-0, giving up only 5 hits.

In one of the best games of the season, Wyoming licked Colorado University 4-2, scoring four times the first inning on CU errors. Caudillo and John Dodge gave up only four hits while the team played errorless ball.

HENRY KOLASINSKI LASHES OUT A TRIPLE.

Wyoming downed Colorado A & M 9 to 7 on six hits and four Aggie errors and the next day evened the score with Colorado State's Dreith, sending him to the showers after he failed to get a man out. The Pokes made 20 hits and only 9 errors to win 18 to 6.

Wyoming split a series with the Pioneers at Denver, frittering away the first 13 to 6 on 8 errors, but winning the second 10 to 5. Caudillo had a one-run game going into the ninth inning of the second game, but had to be relieved by Newell. Mack Peyton homered the first game and Jack Troseth the second for Wyoming.

Wyoming split with Colorado A & M 7 to 5, and 3 to 4. The second game Caudillo and Staub waged a pitching battle that went 14 innings, each pitcher giving up 10 hits.

In a bad day at the end of the season, Wyoming lost to Colorado U. 5 to 10 but clinched the title by winning the last game 17 to 8. Dodge gave up 10 hits and the Pokes held their fielding down to 7 errors.

Peyton won the hitting honors with an average of .379. Kolasinski was second with .379, Grueter third with .352 and Conley fourth .328. Other men over .300 were Lokanc .309; Kosich .308; and Dodge even .300.

CAPTAIN FRANK CONLEY SCORES AGAINST AGGIES.

The Bearley-coached aces opened at Colorado Springs March 29, winning 4 to 3, but slumped the next day to lose 5 to 2. The Cowboys stroked their way through seven straight victories before losing to Denver University 6 to 1 on May 9. Wyoming beat Mines twice at Golden with identical 5 to 4 scores; defeated Denver U. at Laramie 5 to 2; skunked Colorado State at Greeley 7 to 0; downed Colorado U. at Boulder 4 to 3; beat Colo. A & M at Ft. Collins 6 to 1; and shellacked Colorado State again 7 to 0 at Laramie.

Wyoming dropped an exhibition meet to Denver U. 2 to 5 before closing the season with two wins, one over Colorado A & M 4 to 3, and the other over CU 4 to 3.

In the Big Seven Eastern Divisional meet at Ft. Collins Wyoming finished second behind DU, because of the scoring system. DU's Ormsbee beat Weatherill in the semi-finals and beat Gale in the finals after all the strong Wyoming men were placed in the same bracket. Smith and Sprowell went to the doubles finals only to lose to DU's Ormsbee and Hines.

Wyoming trackmen finished second behind Colorado University in the Eastern Division Conference track meet after winning a triangular meet with Denver and Colorado State, winning a dual meet with Colorado State, tying Colorado Aggies 70 to 70, and finishing third in the Colorado Relays.

The Pokes waged a tight battle with Aggies every time they met. Besides tying in the dual meet, Wyoming beat Aggies .3 of a point, 42.7 to 42.4 in the Eastern Divisional meet and beat them 15½ to 15 for fifth place in the Big Seven conference meet in Salt Lake.

The opening meet of the season, the Michigan Relays of February 8, Burns, Rohn and Pearce participated but failed to place.

In the Invitational Indoor Track and Field Meet at Boulder, Warren Capellan won the 35 pound weight throw and Frank Stine finished third in the septathlon. After winning the 50 meter dash, 50 meter high hurdles, tying for 1st in the high jump, placing third in the shot and fourth in the broad jump, Stine could only make 9 feet 6 inches in the pole vault, ruining his chances to win.

In the triangular meet, Wyoming made 58½ points, Denver 51½ and Colorado State 32. Ford and Ray tied for first in the pole vault; Stine won the high and low hurdles and 220 yard dash, and Phillips won the 440 and Lind won the 880. Other Wyoming men who placed were Burns and Dean, second and third in the mile; Rohn, third, shot put; Ford, second, 100 yard dash; Flinn, third, high jump; Zimmerman, third, 440; Felker, second in 220 and third, 220 low hurdles; Sullins, third, 880; Benton and Badley, 2nd and 3rd, two mile; Capellan, 2nd, hammer. Stine set three new Wyoming records in winning three events but bested his own time later in the season.

Colorado State fell 84½ to 55 in a dual meet at Laramie. Wyoming took nine firsts with Capellan setting a new hammer record of 125 ft. 11 in., and Stine a new high hurdle mark of 15.2.

Wyoming tracksters scored 7 points in the Colorado Relays to finish third behind Kansas State with 14 points and Colorado with 28 points. Stine finished second in the high hurdles with a time of 15.1 seconds.

Two records fell in the dual meet between Aggies and Wyoming that ended in a 70 to 70 tie. Capellan threw the hammer 126 ft. 10½ in., and Rohn threw the shot 45 ft. 8⅛ in. and the discuss 135 ft. 8 in.;

Wyoming finished second in Eastern Division meet behind Colorado. Rohn won the discus and the shot put; Stine won the high and low hurdles and Capellan won the hammer throw.

In the Colorado State-Wyoming meet, the Cowboys won easily 82 to 58. Wyoming's point-getter Frank Stine pulled a muscle in the final Big Seven meet after running the best time in the qualifying heat of the high hurdles. Capellan set a new record of 141 ft. 7 in., finishing third, while Rohn set a new Wyoming record of 46 ft. 3½ inches as he finished third in the shot put.

Lettermen in track were Frank Stine, Henry Rohn, Winfield Felker, Warren Capellan, Ralph Phillips, Richard Lind, Allen Benton, Daniel Stitlee, Roger Youtes, Oscar Ray, Roy Dean, Bruce Badley, Norval Johnson and Gene McKane.

Six men earned letters carrying the Wyoming golf laurels. Willis Clark, Leo Kottke, Don Fagan, Eddie Collins, James Pikl and Ed Smith battled their way over Gray's Gables, winning one meet in six.

Wyoming's sole win was over Colorado A & M at Laramie May 16. The Pokes out scored Aggies 19 to 8, Kottke, Clark, Fagan and Collins winning their matches. Fagan had low score of 73 for the day.

Denver U. downed Wyoming 19 to 8 in the first meet April 18, although Pikl shot a 72 for medalist honors in the meet.

Willis Clark won his match in the CU meet and shot second low individual score as the Pokes went down 21 to 6.

BIRDIE 'N PUTT

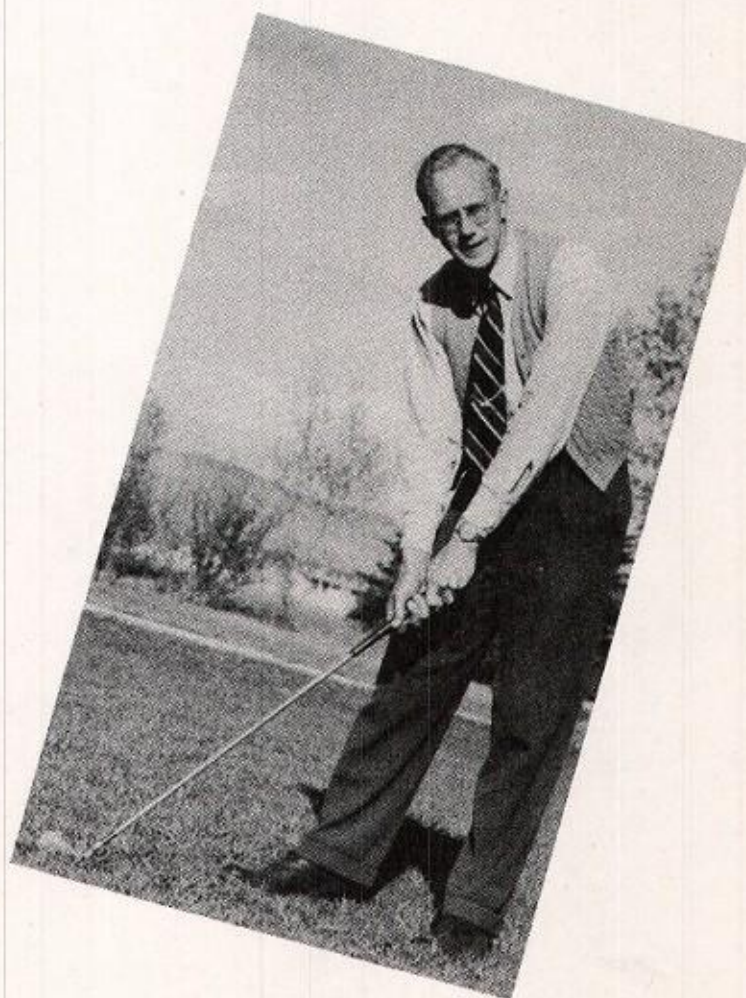

Kottle copped medalist honors at Ft. Collins, shooting a 74 to win his match 3 to 0, but other Pokes were off, Wyoming losing 20 to 7.

Denver U. handed Wyoming their worst defeat of the season at Denver on May 3. Collins tied his match as Wyoming lost 24½ to 21½.

Victory against Colorado U. slipped away from Wyoming in the last match at Laramie, the Bluffs rallying to win the meet 15 to 12.

In the eastern Divisional Championship at Cherry Hills Country Club in Denver, Wyoming placed fourth in team play behind Denver U., Colorado U. and Colorado A & M. No Wyoming man received individual honors.

PUNCHERS SKI

With the blessing of good ski weather but handicapped by limited resources other than adequate ski slopes, the snow-boys were a constant threat in every ski meet in the Rocky Mountain Region.

John McLellan, freshman skier from New Hampshire, developed into the best all-around point-getter for the Punchers. The three Skinner brothers from Pinedale, Grant Hagan and Bill Ashley rounded out the skiers that competed for University honors.

The Outing Club with their extensive winter sports activities were a sustaining force behind skiing. In addition the ski classes conducted by the Physical Education Department helped develop many young skiers that will be wearing University colors in future years.

The Puncher skiers competed in meets at Aspen, Arapahoe Basin Idaho Springs and trekked to Sun Valley over the Christmas holidays.

The brand new Wyoming Hockey team licked everybody in the conference except the champion Colorado College Tigers. Colorado University, Jackson and caught it from the Outing-club backed hockey team.

Besides the varsity competition, hockey developed into the most hotly contested feature of the intramural sports program.

Kappa Sigma slipped by ATO to win the league championship with Allen and Wheeler leading play for the champs. Walgren and Dobner, who saw plenty of action in intercollegiate competition as well, led ATO puck-chasers.

Phi Delta Theta and Sigma Alpha Epsilon finished behind the Kappa Sigs and ATOs to lead the other six teams that competed in the ice league.

Manager Bradley of the City Ice Rink cooperated in making skating facilities available during the hockey season, three games being played on many nights.

In the independent competition, LDS went undefeated to beat out the Town Team with a 5-0 record compared to 4-2 for the TTs.

In the school playoffs Phi Delts nipped the LDS men for the University championship.

LDS wasn't to be touched in basketball competition, breezing through the independent league without a scare and trouncing the frat champs, Phi Delta Theta, 52-38.

The Phi Delta, ATOs, Kappa Sigs and Sigma Nu finished in a tie at the end of the regular season, the PDTs winning the frat circuit in the playoff.

Hudson Independents finished second in the barb league ahead of three other teams.

Ralph Phillips, Sig Chi, raced in ahead in the cross-country, beating SAE George Goble and four independents, Paul Zimmerman, Clark Allen, Dick Shanor and Dante Domenico.

At the end of winter quarter SAE led in I-M standings with 156.5 points. ATO was second with 154, Sigma Nu 152, PDT 143.5, Kappa Sig 143.5 and Sigma Chi 105, Sig Eps, Acacia and BTAs still below the hundred mark.

Veteran Harry Mangus returned to the mat to lead the team, along with Wayne DeSpaine and Frank Stary.

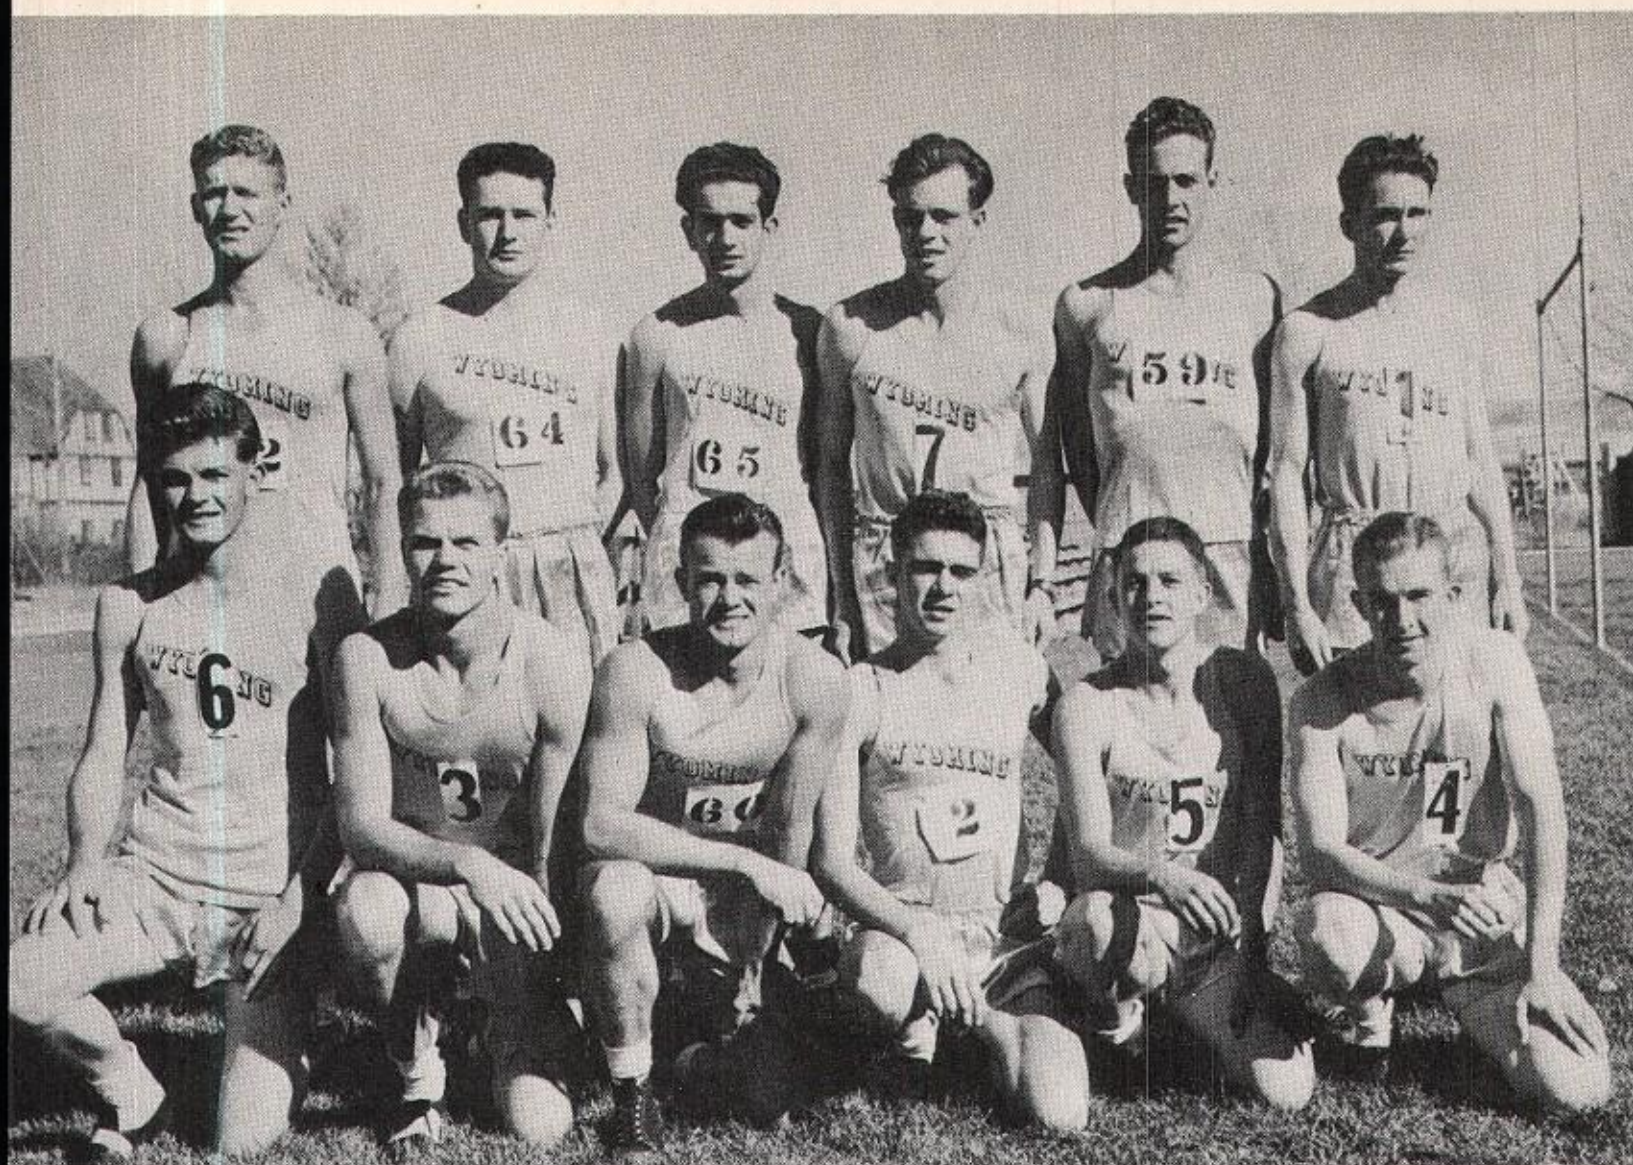

After opening the season with a 31-2 drubbing of Colorado College, the national champions from Cornell College blanked Wyoming 26-0.

The Punchers lost two straight before they rallied, one to Colorado State 17-8 and one to Colorado Aggies 16-11. Wyoming flattened Mines 31-0 and then followed up with a 19-9 drubbing handed Denver University.

Aggies twisted Wyoming's arm 17-8 but the Lantzmen beat CU 24-5 in the final pre-conference.

Coach Everett F. Shelton produced another great basketball team that won 18 games while losing seven, finished in a tie for second place in the Skyline Six Conference, had the second best defensive record of any team in the nation, and received the District Seven bid to the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament at Kansas City March 18-19.

And the Sheltonmen were getting better as the season went on. Big John Pilch, stellar guard from Thermopolis, Wyoming, was named to every recognized all-conference team. Pilch was a major factor in the team's defensive strength, being rated as one of the best rebounders in the nation. Pilch won the Puncher scoring with 231 points.

Four other sophomores besides John Pilch were developed by uncanny Shelton, who, added to experienced Mack Peyton and Team Captain Jimmy Collins, produced the best team in the conference by season's end. Loy Doty, Jerry Reed and John Pilch were sophomore first-stringers, while Leonard "Spook" Larson and Keith Bloom played lots of ball for the Pokes.

John Mankin, Arnie Flinn, Doran Lummis and Jack Cotton complete the Puncher squad that scored 1,178 points during the regular season against 986 for their opponents. The average game score was 44.12 points per game for Wyoming and 39.4 for her opponents.

Wyoming opened the season with a pair of games away from home with Eastern Washington State, winning both contests. In the first game Peyton led the way with 17 points for a 62-35 trouncing over the Staters at Billings. Collins hit for 12 points and Pilch added 11. The next night Washington State came back tough, but lost a rough game to Wyoming 41-37. Peyton, Doty, Collins and Pilch hit for ten, nine, eight and seven points, respectively.

The high-riding Punchers tucked away two more non-conference triumphs with easy wins over Colorado State, 63-30 and 57-40. Jack Cotton and John Pilch tallied 26 points between them in the first game and Peyton led in the second with eight marks.

LOY DOTY COMES IN FROM BEHIND

DOTY AWAY ON A FAST BREAK...

Wyoming swung down South on a seven-game series during the Christmas holidays, which included the Oklahoma City Invitational Tourney. After splitting a pair of pre-tourney games, losing to Tulane 44-30 but beating Centenary 63-43, Wyoming won a thrilling tournament opener from Rice University, 50-48, in an overtime period.

The Punchers dropped a heartbreaker to Southern Methodist University, 41-39, in second round tourney play, but were ice cold in losing to Baylor in the last tournament game, 36-29.

Wyoming tucked away two more victories before coming home, handing Hamline a 55-42 lacing and then winning decisively over Rice again, 56-43.

The Punchers opened their play on the "half-acre" after the holidays with a pair of easy triumphs over Montana State University, winning by very similar margins in both games, 58-41 in the first and 54-39 in the second.

Colorado A. and M. fell before the Cowboys in the first conference game of the season, Wyoming romping to a 52-34 victory on the Aggies' court at Ft. Collins.

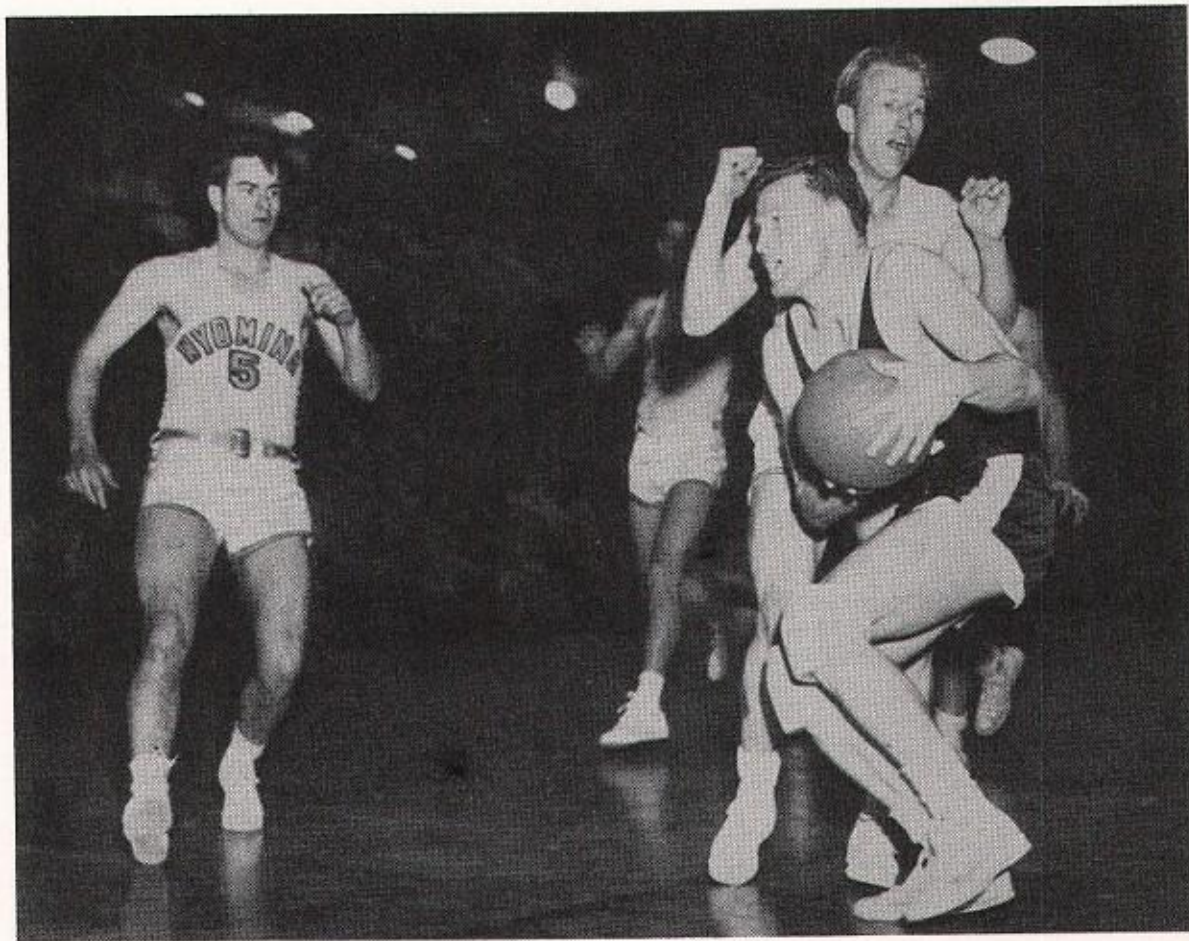

The greenness of the Punchers began to show in the next few games. Wyoming lost four straight conference contests in a row, broken only by a pair of non-league wins over Nevada University. The Shelton men tightened up and the ball just wouldn't cut the strings.

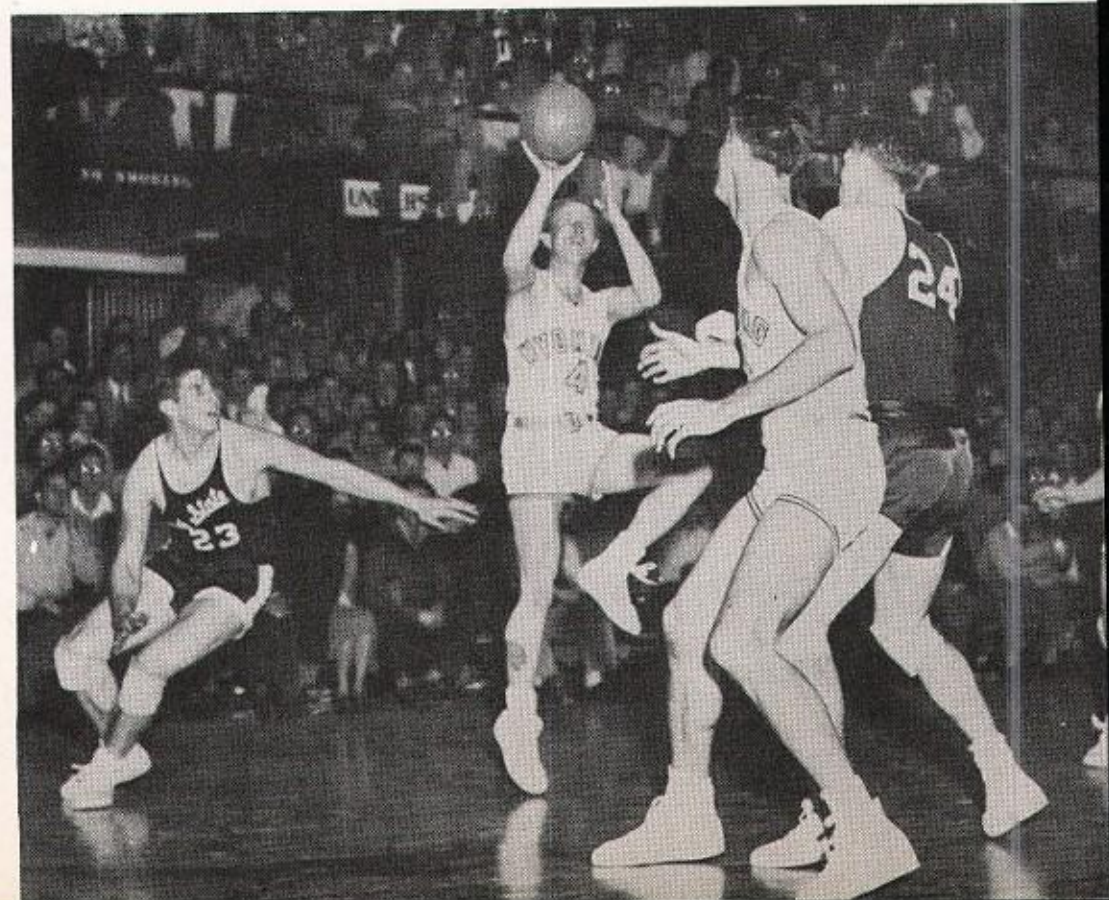

PILCH SHOOTS OVER.

LARSON SAYS "NO".

EVERYBODY'S HURTING.

DOTY SHOTS UP FROM — THREE BYU MEN.

First the defending champion Utah University Redskins took the Pokes into the fold on the half-acre, 38-31, and the to-be-crowned champion Brigham Young Cougars followed up with a 45-39 edge a week later. After Nevada fell 33-32 and 53-36, Wyoming lost a free-scoring contest to Joe Whiteside's BYU Cougars, 57-42.

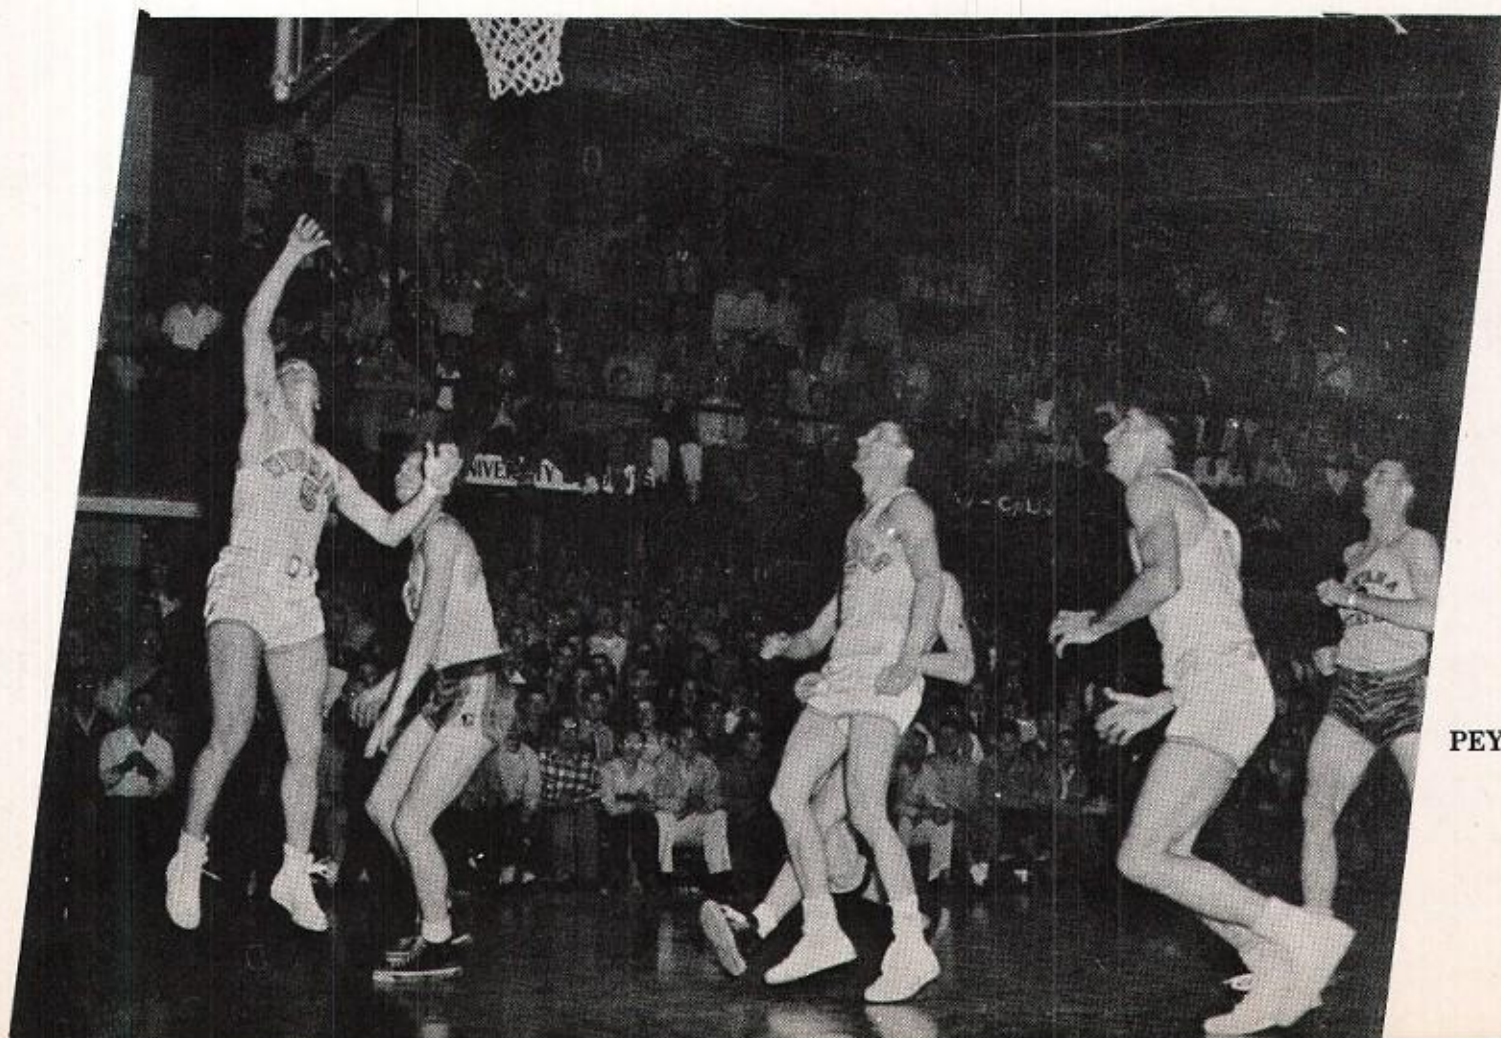

In the last "slump" game of the season, Denver University squeaked by Wyoming at City Auditorium 40-37 in a tight ball game. Wyoming tried only 35 shots in losing to the Pioneers.

But that was the end of the slump. With a conference record of only one win and four losses, Wyoming had been written off by the experts and counted out of the conference contention.

But the determined Punchers started hitting their stride in true championship style as of old, and accomplished the impossible, beating Denver and Colorado Aggies on the half-acre, and winding up the season with a pair of great triumphs over Utah State and Utah University away from home.

Denver was outclassed 46-44, and Wyoming rode rough shod over CAM the next night, 62-39. Mack Peyton hit a tremendous last minute shot from the corner against D.U. that put Wyoming ahead 45-44, and then Mack iced the game with a last second free shot.

PEYTON HAS IT...

THE FARMERS DIDN'T KNOW LARSON WAS SO FAST...SPOOK AWAY FOR A SET-UP.

After failing to score a basket against Utah State in the first ten minutes of play, the calculating Punchers caught afire, overcame an 11-1 lead, and then held the Farmers to seven points the second half as Wyoming won easily, 39-27. John Pilch led the scoring with 15 points.

In the final all-deciding game with Utah, the Punchers shined as a team and as individual stars completely eclipsed the Utah aces, Arnie Ferrin and Vern Gardner. Wyoming took an early lead and held it all the way. Leading at half time,, the Shelton men played near-perfect ball to keep the lead, winning 41-37.

Arnie Ferrin hit only one basket off Loy Doty, and Gardner made a single field goal off John Pilch and Jerry Reed. Reed hit for nine points, Pilch was tremendous in scoring 14, and Collins and Peyton played their best games of the year in setting plays and bottling the Utes. Len Larson hit two long ones and a set-up plus a free shot for seven priceless points.

The 41-37 victory gave Wyoming a three-way tie for second with Denver and Utah. And the NCAA selection committee voted Wyoming as representative to the Kansas City post-season tournament, despite loud wailing and gnashing of teeth by Utah's Vadel Peterson.

The most wonderful single fact about the great 1947-48 Puncher cage team is their youthful determination. Even in finishing another successful season, the fans could feel with Ev Shelton that the potentialities of the young team had hardly been tapped.

A great 1947-48 basketball season points towards a greater year coming up.

The University recognizes that preparation for national defense is one of the important obligations of citizenship, and that qualities of patriotism, loyalty, discipline, leadership, and respect for constituted authority, inculcated by proper military training, are valuable in character building and an asset to the graduate.

New conditions met the returning post-war corps of cadets. The war years had cut deeply into the ROTC enrollment. However, by the second post-war year, 1947-1948, the total ROTC enrollment had jumped to 397 cadets. New training aids and equipment were acquired, enabling the cadet to obtain a working knowledge of military developments during World War II. In extra-curricular activities such as homecoming, athletic activities, and the arrival of the "Friendship Train", the military Department offered its whole-hearted support.

The ROTC Unit at the University consists of the first and second year basic students, for whom ROTC is a compulsory requirement, and advanced course students who elect advanced training leading up to a commission in the organized reserves.

The departments of the Army and the Air Force, as a result of the 1946-1947 annual inspection, gave the University of Wyoming ROTC Unit a rating of Excellent, the highest rating authorized.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

Meeting regularly in the Student Union, campus of the University of Wyoming, city of Laramie, State of Wyoming we find the representatives of the various groups of young Apollos on the University campus. (Note to other colleges: we too have men on our campus.) This representative group is probably more widely known as the Inter Fraternity Council and consists of two members from each organized fraternity group on the campus, and the Council in turn provides one member for the Student Senate. The purpose of the group is aimed toward closer cooperation between fraternities (which members of the fraternities promptly take to heart and demonstrate their good will by stealing other people's front doors and Christmas trees.) To aid in keeping the feet of the six busy groups of young Greek women on the campus traveling in their appointed paths is the responsibility of the two Pan Hellenic Councils at the University of Wyoming. Representatives elected from each of the Greek social organizations make up the council, the Senior Pan Hellenic being composed of the older co-eds and the Junior Pan Hellenic designed to train the neophytes for later responsible positions. So far the Pan Hellenic councils have ably averted any open feuds between all young ladies concerned whether they be contending for cups, beauty queens, class offices, or just plain dates.

Lois Stockhouse has been the able director of the Senior Pan Hellenic group while Toria Field has held the reins of the Junior council.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Those girls (and dates . . . tsk! tsk!) who are seen each spring taking off for the hills in formal attire et al are the Alpha Chi's. When these gals take off on a party, they really take off and go 'way far out there in the mountains where they can holler and yell all they please to ease those pent-up spirits. This, of course, depends greatly on the chaperones for the occasion, but then it is a real nice thought. The only trouble the Alpha Chi's seem to have about much of anything is concerned with a house which they have been planning on building ever since they can remember, but they only have a small scale model to show as yet. The poor kids have been trying to get building permission so that they could get up in the park with the rest of the people (?) for years. Well . . . so it goes . . .

Wyoming's chapter of Chi Omega, Beta Kappa, was installed on the University campus in 1930. They list among their "Wheels" such people as Alice Lee Mankin, president of the chapter as well as Phi Gamma Nu; Toria Field, prexy of Junior Pan Hellenic Council; Alice Dixon, treasurer of Spurs; and Joanne Small, student senator representing Spurs.

President.

HUMBLE ABODE ON GRAND—

CHI OMEGA

Situated on the Lincoln Highway (and what more could you ask . . . "to live in a house by the side of the road") are the Chi O's. From their vantage point they may watch the hustle and bustle of the world in quiet seclusion, if you don't mind the rumble of busses, etc., on into the night that is. Also the Chi O's are ideally located to get in on serenades (especially if they follow a party) both coming and going. The boys would feel that it would be a shame if they were to pass any sorority house on such an occasion without ample salute, no matter how late the hour. Small, if unrehearsed, floor shows have at times been presented for the benefit of these girls . . . tap dances and all.

Psi Delta chapter of Chi Omega was inducted into the student life of the University in 1933. Among the prominent leaders in Chi Omega (which there are plenty of) we hasten to list Beverly Hoel, president; Marian Scriffin, woman athlete as well as Who's Who, Mortar Board, and editor of the 1948 Student Directory; Hazel Underwood, Who's Who and Mortar Board, and also on the Student Senate; Lois Stockhouse, president of Pan Hellenic Council and Home Economics Club; and Gloria Sebastian, pianist.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

Armed with a dagger and a trio of triangles, these Tri Delts can fight their way out of anywhere. The dagger, we know what they could use for, but what do they do with the triangles . . . play marching tunes? Should make a fine-sounding musical arrangement. Owing to their famous, if not notorious, record of party party party these girls are welcome anywhere . . . where "cheerio" isn't a word of farewell but a place of gathering. Not to be outdone by other neighbors for methods of entrance and exit, there are, in the House of the Three Triangles, numerous and well-placed openings known as windows. The best thing to be done with windows in this case is not to be discovered in their immediate vicinity after 10:30 P.M.

Delta Delta Delta was established on the Wyoming campus in 1913. Outstanding "fellowship" girls include B. J. Pyle, president; Joy Delatour, Homecoming Queen of 1947; Charmaine Petrich, elected most beautiful and most popular girl for 1948 at the spring Inkslinger's Ball; Margaret Hageman, Who's Who, Mortar Board and campus journalist who ranks with Nan Haight and Joan Scammon. Joan is also co-editor of Wyoming's newest journalistic baby, a campus magazine. V. J. Reckling is also one of the student journalists, and Ester MacLeod is the songbird for the Tri Delts.

AREN'T WE BEAUTIFUL?

KAPPA DELTA

Using double window shades, bars on the doors, and living way down on Grand Avenue are the K. D.'s. They have some strange neighbors, it seems, who from their vantage points have an excellent view of the house of Kappa Delta, and so when you see the Tau's and the Sig's wearing glasses you can be mighty sure it's nothing more serious than a case of eyestrain. You've tried for so many years, fellas, by now you ought to know you just can't see through shades. But then, when you stop to think of it, the K. D.'s have a darn good view themselves. How about it, gals? Aren't those people across the alley interesting?

The Rho chapter of Kappa Delta was established at Wyoming in 1913 and ranks third of the six sororities in date of installation on the campus. Far away from the hustle and bustle (female) of the park, these young ladies have more of a chance to develop the serious side of the personality. We find among their number such prominent campusites as Alma Rubeling, Who's Who; Shirley Reeves, lady-in-waiting to the Engineer's Queen; Bobby Chisholm, chapter president; Edith Sardini and Shirley Day, journalists; and Carol Woods, who supplies the musical talent for the group.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

Over on fraternity row there is a house. It is a red brick house, with lotza girls liv(?) there. These girls wear a key . . .
is should not be confused with the Phi ta Kappa Key). The theory offered to stantiate the presence of these key bear-is that they are around to play with the O's. However, that theory has been destroyed now, cuz they (ATO's) got mad and picked up their marbles and went home. Now it is rumored that the PDT's picked up the Kappa option and again we hear merry laughter and much hilarity on election day emerging from the vicinity of the house of bricks. The wearers of the "key" have developed a complex about stepping on rugs, sitting on chairs, or any other living in a casual manner. Perhaps this is due to their aversion to Wyoming mud.

Kappa Kappa Gamma was established on this campus in 1927. Prominent bearers of the key include Agnes Burns, president;
Pat Hartzell, past president; Charlotte
Wallace, senator, and head of student post office; Keating Murphy, Ideal Model; Dorothy McKay, Who's Who and president of Mortar Board and Epsilon Psi; Connie
Haynes, first place equestrienne - horse - driver in the Little International; Dede
Hayes, Cheerleader; Joyce Tate, Student
Director of University plays; and Phyllis
Westlake, Publicity Chairman of the Rodeo Association.

PI BETA PHI

JANET WATT, President.

I got a brain, you got a brain, all Prexy's chillun are Pi Phis? Holding a 99-year lease on the Sig Ep garage and a debatable six-year option on the Scholarship Cup, the Pi Phi's exist on this campus. That's news? These lil gals insist on taking trips on toy balloons . . . to defray expenses on trips to Denver. Some of these arrow girls have even been known to go out on a "date" (with a man) without their ever-lovin' texts. To the peoples of the world I say . . . "It should happen to a Pi Phi."

And what do you use for fire escapes? It's a good thing that there never has been a fire in the Pi Phi house, 'cause half of the girls running down the fire escape would meet the other half sneaking up . . . on the other hand that might prove interesting.

Wyoming Alpha chapter of Pi Beta Phi was established on the University of Wyoming campus in 1910 and ranks first in the date of installation on the campus. Their star boarders include President Janet Watt; Martha Ballantyne, Who's Who and Mortar Board; Helen Hamm, cheerleader; Mary Borchsenius, president of Phi Sigma Iota; Betty Ellen Hill, engineer and student senator; Donna Jean Frey, Who's Who and Mortar Board, and president of Theta Alpha Phi; Jean Christensen, secretary of the Student Senate; Ann Schmidt, Who's Who, Mortar Board, and editor of the 1948 WYO; and Mary Jean Wolf, Grid-iron Red Hat winner and Copy Editor of the 1948 WYO.

PARLEZ VOUS FRANCAIS

YOU DO AND—

VARSDTY VILLAGERS

A small but close knit group of girls on the University of Wyoming campus are the Varsity Villagers. Living "out in town" (which incidentally is a pretty fine idea in some cases . . . such as if there is a small party) these girls have formed their own aggregation and hold formals, parties, picnics, and the other etceteras which go to make college life interesting. These girls, living as they do away from the campus, have an organization which participates actively in University affairs and functions well within itself.

Heading the organization for the 1947-48 year is Lessie Beverly.

LAMBDA DELTA SIGMA

Owner of a palatial home far surpassing most others at Wyoming is the L.D.S., or if you must use those difficult names, Lambda Delta Sigma. Though the house is not in the "park", it stands in splendor on Grand Avenue...with windows 'n everything! The idea of an L.D.S. Organization originated, not in Wyoming, but way down south in the land of Gardner and Ferrin...that's Utah. Organized by Mormon students at the University of Utah in 1936, the Wyoming Alpha and Omega chapters were established at Wyoming in 1937 (fast work!). The mention of two chapters may confuse our more addle-brained friends and so we hasten to mention the fact that the Alpha chapter is the fraternity chapter of L.D.S. and the Omega chapter is the sorority section of the group. Yvonne Gardner Clark and Linne Olsen are the 1947-48 presidents of this split entity...L.D.S.

WHY SO GLUM????

SMILE AT THE BIRDIE...

OUR FOOTBALL HERO

ACACIA

Still coming under the heading of newcomers to the University of Wyoming campus are the Acacia's, who nonetheless throw some lovely parties. Installed only in the year 1947 (A.D.) the boys are just getting a start. Living in a house on University, we note that there is an abundance of Ag students in the frat which fact, we presume, is due to the proximity of that locale to the Ag school. It saves shoe leather. Besides, the boys are a little bashful as yet and have not gotten to the stage of entering into the friendly little games (you dig up my lawn and I'll paint your house, the wrong color) of the other young men on campus.

The Acacia's are the only organized men's group who do not come under the heading of a Greek letter fraternity. They are backed as a Masonic group. Prominent members include president Bob Kelly, who is also president of Interfraternity Council; cartoonist and journalist Win Hungate; and scholars Wallace Moon and Wally Conover. Not bad, we'd say, for so short a period of existence.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

"Oldest, bestest, mostest" and we quote the boys of Alpha Tau Omega, better known as the boys who wear curlers for their chests. Or perhaps they dash down monthly for a permanent. Who are we to decide. Known for spirits, (and we really mean this), voices, and house painting ... which takes place with the paint tempered with other unmentionable substances ... the ATO's throw a ... now there must be a word for it ... let's just call it the Bowery Ball (spelled with a w), during winter quarter. Dark glasses prevail until the soft spring light makes things easier on the eyes. Wyoming Gamma Psi, installed in 1913 boasts such prominent personalities as President Gene Smith ... the Sophomore class, Greenbaum, Heiser and Johnson ... Junior class secretary-treasurer, O'Connell and senior senator Nimmo Taylor ... Bob Hitchcock, Who's Who, Interfraternity Council and Alpha Kappa Psi. Hockey team members Walgren and Dobner. For further information consult the senior poem on prominent ATO's.

STUFF YOUR BIG FAT FACES!!

BETA THETA ALPHA

Still in there plugging (even if it has to be done from a Butler hut) are the Beta Theta Alpha's, who celebrate their first birthday this year. Due to their comparatively new station on the campus and the lack of knowledge of the fraternity song for the chapter, the Beta's will probably go down in the annals of Wyoming fraternity history as the Onion boys. There is nothing these boys love more than to be serenaded with lovely little songs, and in return they are hospitable and throw the good intentioned songstress, or songstresses, in the nearest snowbank. Sweet boys.

This nice but noisy little group is still working in the direction of national recognition, aided by the outstanding personalities of president and physicist, Bob Coulehan; football star and scholar, John Loop; and "Red" Christensen, aviator.

KAPPA SIGMA

We're not people to indulge in idle gossip, but we happen to know of a certain organized group of young men on the campus who have a skeleton in their closet. We wouldn't want to mention any names, but they reside in a palace, by comparison, in Frat Park and in Greek the name would be Kappa Sigma. We hope all will note the singular of the word closet, as we doubt that there are more than one or two such items in the whole expanse of their domain. The Kappa Sigs, with their share of notoriety in intermural athletics, are also noted for their "pretty parties".

Delta Gamma chapter was installed in the U.W. campus in 1921, and ranks fourth in the date of fraternity installations at Wyoming. Prominent wearers of the Star and Crescent are president Chuck Vivion; Don Koerting, pianist and composer; the male leads of the campus, Thompson, McCracken, and Bauder; Jim Collins, outstanding hoopster and captain of the 1947-48 Cowboys; Dittman and Kilty, Kilty and Dittman, and need we say more; and finally those 1948 WYO photographers, Vern Vivion and Don Lieber.

WHO'S THE LUCKY MAN ???

KAPPA SIG BUNGALOW ...

IS IT COLD ?

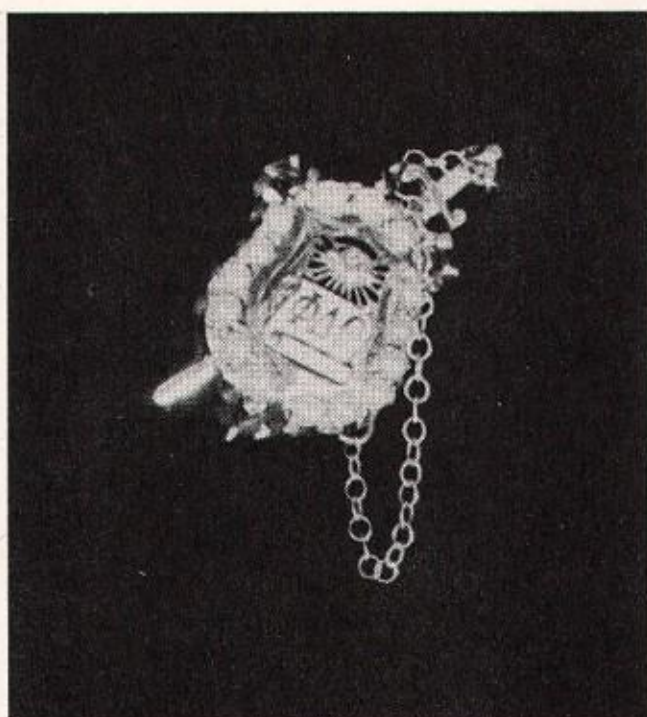

DOESN'T LOOK COLD HERE ...

FORK OR FINGERS ?

THE IPANA SMILE ...

PHI DELTA THETA

With their shields before them, the Phi Delts march...with their parties dragging behind them. Famed for their parties, smooth tactics in thievery and love (you get the girl, we pin her!) and singing voices, the Phi Delta Theta mansion stands sedately (you heard me) a block from the "house of the bearded men", whom the PDT's love dearly. The Phi Delts have a strong affinity for keys and you may see them almost any hour of the day conducting their search for such items.

Since the Wyoming chapter was installed in 1934, Phi Delts have contributed immeasurably to campus affairs. Outstanding Phi Delts include Bud Daniels, Student Body President, Most Popular Man, Larry Tobin; Mel Fillerup, Student Manager of A.S.U.W.; Bob Thompson, Senior Class President and "Dode" Gerdorn, campus character.

BOB THOMPSON, President.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

There stands on a street known as Tenth Street an establishment which is known. What it is known as would bring up such a topic as to choke a cow or unnerve an athlete. Most of the year the Sig Alph house may aptly be called the Tenth Street Athletic Club, but there are times. Then we find a situation which vexes and perplexes and itches...beards. This chemical reaction (it must be chemical...it couldn't be normal) begins about a month before the annual Bushman's Hop, one of the most paralyzed events of the year. Beneath athletic plaques dating from way back when, we find such celebrities as Walt Andre, president of SAE; Francis Connor, president Phi Epsilon Kappa... Football men Martogoli, Pearce, Grace, Chenoweth to mention only a few...hoopsters Pilch, Lummis, and freshmen hopefuls Chamberlain, Montgomery, Lathrop, Whelan, and the Storey brothers...champs of the diamond Copenhaver, Troseth, Martoglio...wrestlers Stray, Mangus, and Allen...cross country man Mangus...and so on. On the administrative side are Eads (Who's Who) and Mehle, student senators...Willis, Scabbard and Blade officer...and last, but let us promise you not least, is the "Drummer Boy", Chuck Chamison. (For further information as we run out of space, we would advise calling the SAE annex...4550.)

Incidentally Sigma Alpha Epsilon came to the Wyoming campus in 1917, after several years of prominence as the local chapter of Sigma Beta Phi.

SIGMA CHI

The dapper diaper boys of the Baby Bowl are commonly known as the Sig Chi's. Substituting cigarettes for lollipops during the majority of the school year, the Sigs really throw a dance fall quarter...complete with diapers, bottles (baby), and all the needed requirements...which is, as we have indicated previously, known as the Baby Ball. If any normal human being were to invade the premises of the aforesaid function, they would be astounded at the retrogression here indicated. Living way down on University, the Sigs manage to exist (don't ask us how) between wars with the adjacent ATO's. The Sigs really worked their little finger, brains, and vocal chords to the bone during Homecoming when they walked off with two first places, one for float and one house decorations and third place in the annual Homecoming Sing.

The Wyoming chapter of Sigma Chi was installed on the University of Wyoming campus in 1930. Prominent among the Sigs are President Virgil Slough; Bob Justus, Senate vice-president; Kenneth Jay and Hale Laybourn, songsters; Glenn Harris, actor; Tom Palmer, magician extraordinary; Jack Cotten, hoopster for the Cowboys; and Mike Levi.

SIGMA NU

With a direct underground steam tunnel to the registrar's office (we suspect), loaded trophy cases (intermurals were nasty last year, weren't they?), and loaded pins, we find existing way down town a group of people who live in the house of the "limbless reptiles." These boys, as you must have guessed by now are more frequently called Sigma Nu's. Not to be outdone by any other male contingent on the campus, the Sigma Nu's throw an annual spring "party", to overwork an already worn out phrase, which they call the Chanticleer. Said party begins in the early ayem and continues until even the stronger participants drop from sheer exhaustion.

Prominent among the men of the White Star are Carl and Hardy Rollins, football players; Mack Peyton, hoopster extraordinary; track man Frank Stein; scholars Dick Hall and Kenneth Miller; Byron Foreman, Scabbard and Blade prexy; Bill (It Can Happen Here) Schwiering and Paul Rechard, Who's Who; Artist John Welsh; president Harold Hagen and Tiny Hagen, addicts of snow and speed; cheerleader Bruce Jensen; and finally Warren (Post Office Hunter) Hagist, Business Manager of the 1948 WYO.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

The rah! rah! boys of the campus, Sigma Phi Epsilon, abide in a palatial abode on Fraternity Park. Proximity to the Pi Phi House makes them the envy of other fraternities... need we say no field glasses necessary. The musical? Sig Eps are noted for (o.p's.) pins... and a band.

The Wyoming chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon was installed in 1943. Outstanding members include Kenny Nielsen, President; Fred Baggs, military man; Journalists Bill Quinn and Glenn Dalrymple; Champion Debater, Gerald Henning; Carl Selmer (Jack Armstrong, the "All-American Boy"); Ron Livingston, six foot nine inch popular basketball star; Tom Breaky, Chemistry Club "prexy" and Ward McDaniels, athlete and outstanding senior.

TAU EPSILON PHI

Having taken up residence in close proximity to the Tenth Street Athletic Club, we wonder just what the effect will be on the campus neophytes known as the Tau Epsilon Phi's. The $64 question of the year will be . . . will we have another group of bearded men, or will the Tau Ep's (as their behavior up to the present has indicated) remain quiet and peaceful. The one accomplishment of this year for one of the well known Tau Ep's, however, has been that of scaring the editor of the WYO to death. It seems that he has taken up an option on a certain corner of hall near the WYO office and when said editor buzzes around the corner she always manages to break up the little tete-a-tete of which the Tau Ep is one member.

Established on the Wyoming campus in 1947, the Tau Eps (regardless of any remarks heretofore) have their share of fine fellows. Prominent Tau Eps are President William Grossman and Cy Drexler.

Creative as all get out, inspired to re-literary to the point of rugged individualism, and real nice people are the members of Blue Pencil. An eager little organization, Blue Pencil loves to sponsor things.

 The Inkslinger's Ball with its popularity and beauty contest is one of the finer things the B.I. submits for public consumption. We might mention (and will get shot if we don't) the Gridiron Banquet, a fine old tradition indulged in every year by the boys and girls with opinions and fighting spirits. Every year two loquacious characters emerge from the smoke and flame of de-cussing and recussing and are awarded red derbies (which must be worn from sunrise to sunset the following day) by Blue Pencil for valiant conduct under fire. How about it

MORTAR BOARD

In reward for four years of toil, scholastically and otherwise, a few senior women are annually awarded the right to wear a square piece of cardboard covered in somber black atop their heads. Now this little square of cardboard is highly coveted by all those who have ever had the audacity to dream of graduating from the University and is known as a Mortar Board. Mortar Board, as a senior women's honorary, is one of the most active groups on the campus. The members of the organization are chosen on a basis of scholarship and leadership, and the future members are "tapped" each spring.

This years president is Miss Dorothy McKay, art student at the University.

EPSILON PSI

DOROTHY McKAY, President

In red-hot pursuit of that much needed intellectual aspect known as appreciation of the finer things in life are the members of Epsilon Psi, Art Honorary. A comparatively new group on campus (established in 1945), these people are not "artists" in the sense of being long gone way far out of this world. On the contrary, they are ordinary college students who do some fine and quite plebian things like sponsoring the annual Artists and Models Ball, at which the Ideal Model is chosen. Other more exclusive phases of their program include coffee hours, art exhibits, and the awarding of an Honor Book to the outstanding art student of the year. The group is led this year by president, Dorothy McKay; vice-president, John Welsh; secretary, Jean Christensen; and treasurer, Ken Neilsen.

IRON SKULL

Membership in Iron Skull (this title does not, we feel, signify in any way any oddity to be found in the uppermost regions of the anatomies of these person-ages) is made up of the scholars and leaders of the Junior class at the University of Wyoming. Two members are selected each year from each Greek and Independent society on the campus. Main functions of the year for this organization are connected with Homecoming (yes, indeed) when they sponsor the Homecoming Sing and the annual Iron Skull Skid.

Iron Skull has functioned this year under the capable leadership of Larry Tobin.

PHI GAMMA NU

If you are a bright young woman, if you take commerce, and if you are a brilliant student, you may be eligible for Phi Gamma Nu, which is a professional commerce sorority. Between writing notes in shorthand and typing term papers for the boy friend (Bless his little pointed head!) these charming coeds encourage school spirit and develop further interest in their profession. The main events of the scholastic year for these feminine whizzes with the Commerce quizzes are the Commerce Carnival and the spring quarter initiation and dance which is held jointly with Alpha Kappa Psi, men's professional commerce fraternity.

ALPHA KAPPA PSI

Here we seem to have another honorary. Not to be outdone by the female contingent, there is an honorary known as Alpha Kappa Psi in the Commerce Department...for men only. A national organization, its members will undoubtedly solve the future headaches of business and industry...well, at least they will make an attempt. Under the competent direction of Elliott Minick this organization manages to quietly carry on its purpose which is mainly in the field of higher scholarship in commerce and economics.

SPURS

JOAN THOMASEN, President

Just because there are certain days of the week when one may see many young ladies on the University of Wyoming Campus running about in snow white (so far as Laramie weather will permit) attire, it is no sign that there is about to be a mass wedding. Those young ladies are members of the Sophomore women's honorary organization known as Spurs, which is one of the most active service organizations on the campus. Organized on the Wyoming campus in 1928, the Spurs are most prominent when there is cheering at basketball or football games, and ushering at assemblies. Joan Thomasen is the president.

PHI EPSILON PHI

Right in there with the Spurs when it comes to a lusty pair of lungs are the Phi Epsilon Phi's, sophomore men's honorary. The Phi Eps are easily distinguished by their bright gold sweaters embellished with brown letters; and the fact that they, with the Spurs, always remember to stand when the state song is played even without the rest of the student body. These young men are chosen, two from each of the Greek and Independent organizations on the campus, on the basis of their scholarship and leadership.

Leading the Phi Eps in loud and lusty cheering as well as there other campus activities has been Don Jones, this year's president.

THETA ALPHA PHI

DONNA JEAN FREY, President

For emoting to the full extent of their ability and giving their all for their art, a few people are annually initiated into Theta Alpha Phi, national dramatic honorary. The organization originally began as the Thalian club, but after their first production... "Seven Keys to Baldpate" ...they were invited to join the national organization. The big activities of the year for the group are the series of movies which they sponsor, and the choice of the best actor and actress of the year.

ALPHA EPSILON DELTA

With scalpel in hand and sutures hidden in the cotton, the students enrolled in pre-medics at the University of Wyoming work to attain such recognition as they may, the greatest of which is the invitation to join the ranks of Alpha Epsilon Delta. Established on the University of Wyoming campus in 1939, the organization is for pre-medical students and allows membership to both men and women... big concession, fellas? With an eye on the sciences offered at the University, these students work like beavers (which explains the lack of trees around the campus) to maintain high standards so that they may later be admitted to specialized medical institutions. Leading the pre-medics in their cutting up (mostly of cats) for 1947-48 has been Larry Tobin.

ALPHA ZETA

For excellence (and/or effort) in acquaintance with cows, horses, and other forms of livestock, recognition is given to the men in the College of Agriculture by Alpha Zeta, national agricultural honorary. Sons of the soil who carry on the tradition of their ancestors in this section of the country, they represent the "cream of the crop" of one of the finest of Ag schools. So wrapped up in their agricultural pursuits are these young men, there is a doubt in our minds as to whether or not they would require a pedigree on their girls before they considered a date. Chief digger-in-the-dirt and cow-cutter for this year has been Joe Guild.

Along with Phi Beta Kappa there marches another strong right arm which battles for the survival of scholarship on University campuses. This arm (should we entitle this the case of the missing socket) is better known as Phi Kappa Phi. Wyoming's first honorary, Phi Kappa Phi was founded by Dr. Aven Nelson at Laramie in 1915. Slogan for Phi Kappa Phi might read... "For scholars only."

To almost any University student, no matter what his Alma Mater, the name Phi Beta Kappa is known and respected. Those outside the pale of the intelligentsia may scoff and say members could be nothing but four-sided, but they know what the name means nonetheless.

BIG SISTERS

MARIAN SCRIFIN, President

Ask any freshman girl... she'll tell you about the Big Sisters, for this friendly group exists mainly to help the first year girls. The appearance of "Big Sisters" to guide freshmen through the orientation period makes them feel at home. The biggest social event of the year sponsored by the group is the Coed Costume Ball. Various prizes are given for original costumes, and the fellows on the campus are practically exterminated in their attempts to "cash" the Ball. Big Sisters also supervise the All Freshman Personnel test and the A.W.S. Handbook Test.

GAMMA SIGMA EPSILON

TOM BREAKY, President... LOOKS TIRED DOESN'T HE?

This is the story of a chemical honorary. Now, by this statement we do not mean to imply that the people who belong to this society were just brewed up from an old formula and put in the honorary. On the contrary, they are lovely people and probably brewed many a formula themselves before being admitted. Before we confuse anyone further, this is an honorary known as Gamma Sigma Epsilon, which is of national scope and designed for chemists. After much formula (aren't we sharp?) discussion and microscopic attention to the subject, Tom Breaky was named chief of the test tube testers for the year 1947-48.

PHI UPSILON OMICRON

CLARA MANINFIOR, President

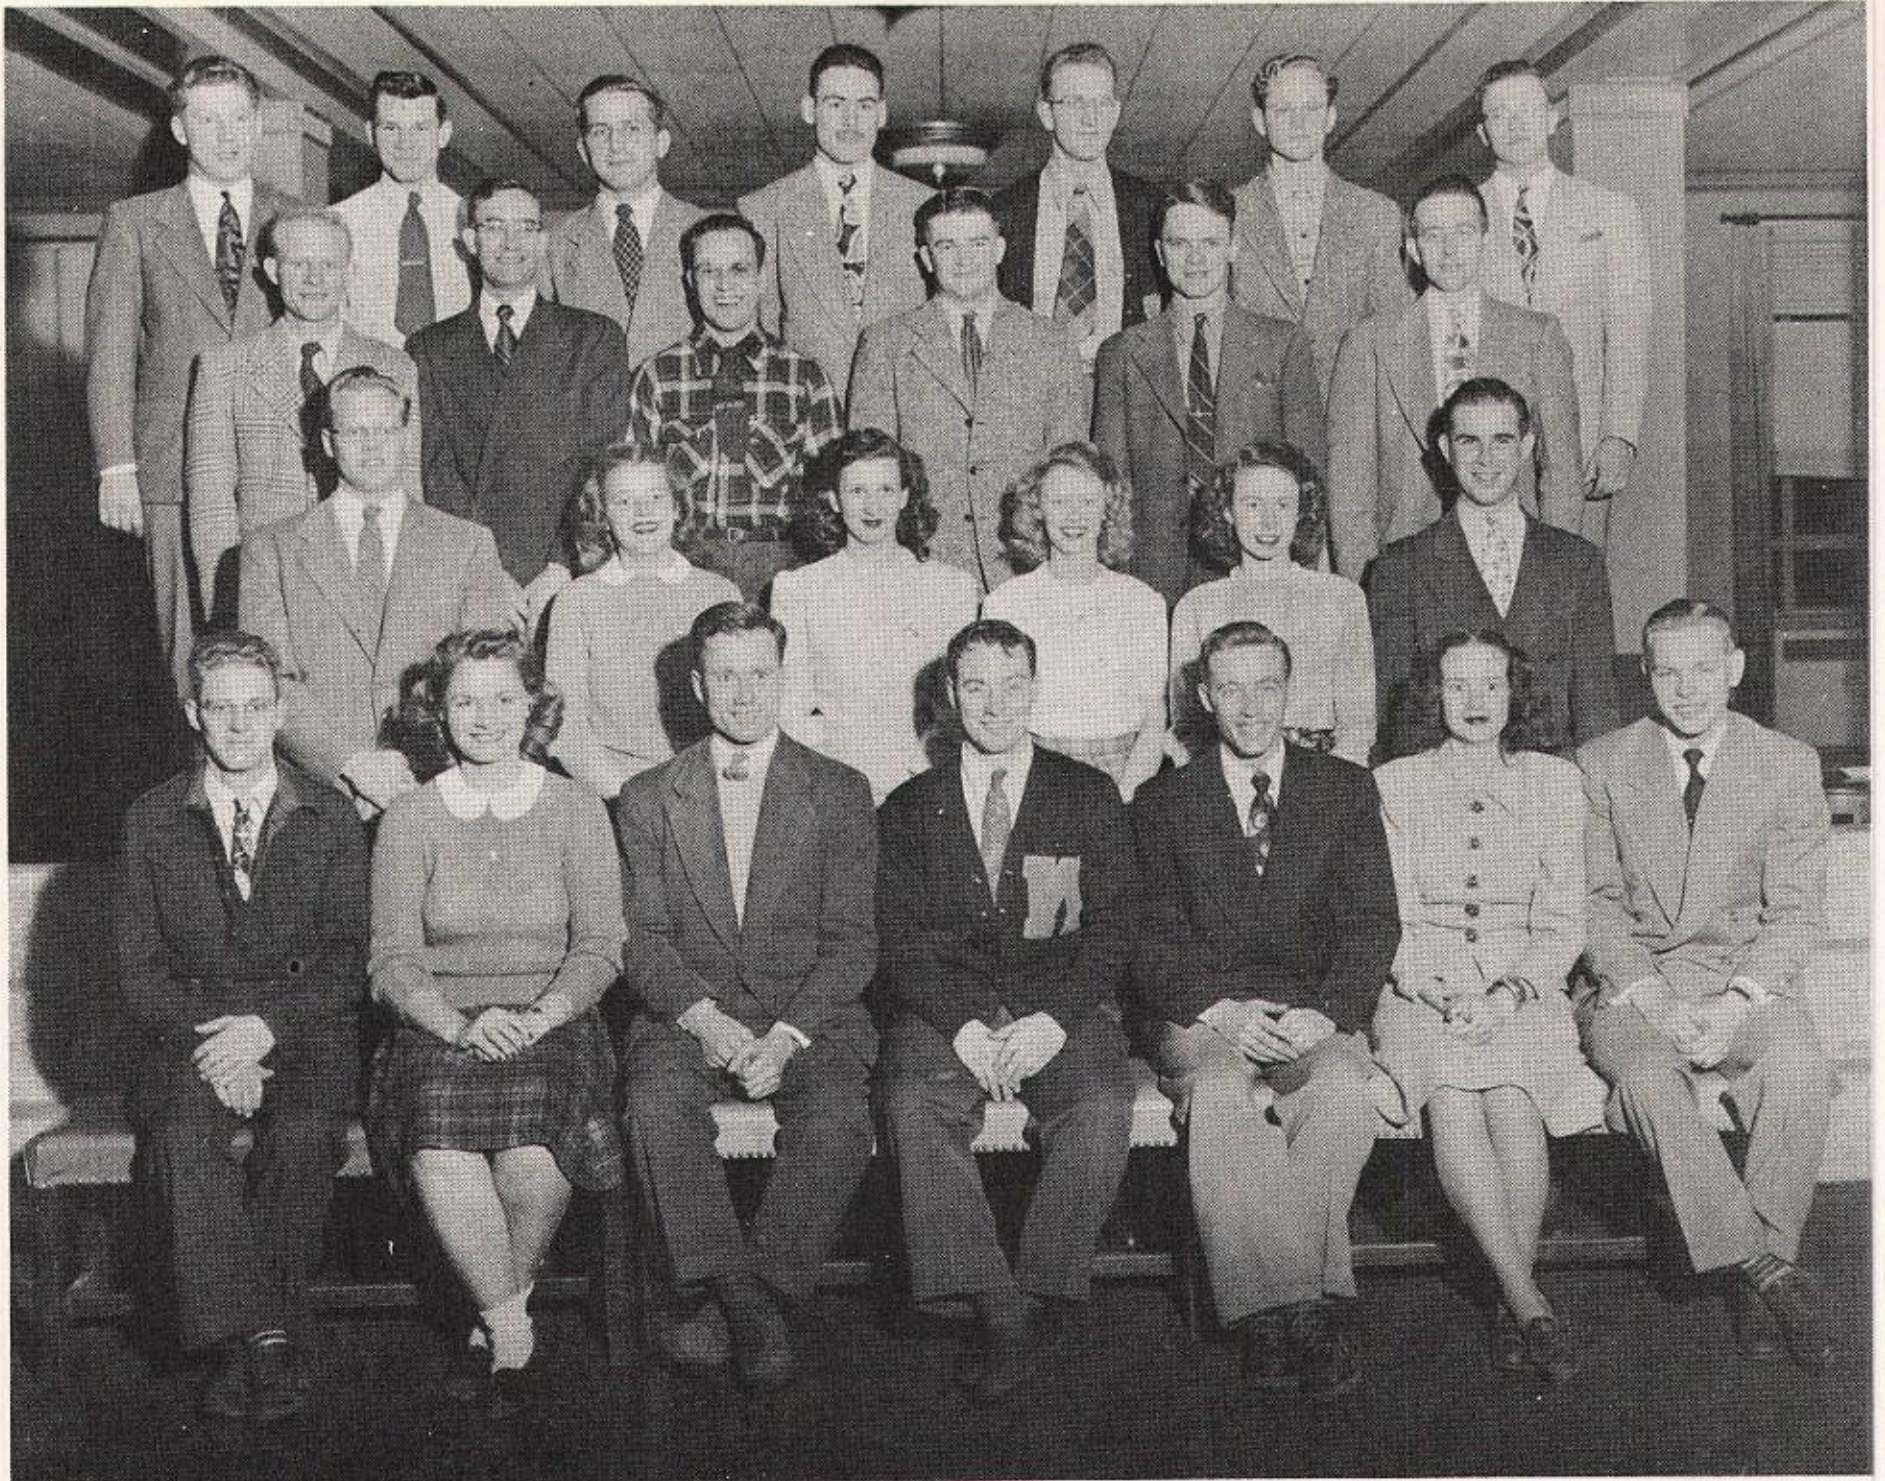

Armed with dishes, pots and pans, mops, and other impedimenta of household warfare and leading the progress of Home Ec majors on the University campus, we find the members of Phi Upsilon Omicron, home economic honorary. To be eligible for this honorary requires completion of the sophomore year, and members are considered on the basis of scholarship, service, and professional attitude. Stronghold for the organization and probably one of the main bases of activity is the Home Management house, where Home Ec majors get a chance to become indoctrinated with the fine points of "keeping house." Phi Upsilon Omicron was founded in 1915 and was the first honorary sorority on the University of Wyoming campus.

STUDENT SENATE

ASUW PRESIDENT—GLENN
(BUD) DANIEL

Liaison between U.W. students and administration is the Student Senate whose members are elected from various organizations and from the Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes.

Potentially one of the most important student administrative bodies among American colleges and universities, the Senate maintains a conservative balance when issues become "interesting."

Upon its organization in 1938 the legislative body of the Associated Students of the University of Wyoming was one of the first among student governments throughout the nation in the number and magnitude of the powers delegated to it by the Faculty and the Board of Trustees of the University.

INDEPENDENT STUDENTS

With nearly four hundred members, the University of Wyoming Independents Club functions as a powerful political and social activity. The Independent cowboys and cowgirls often surpass the rest of the campus in intramural sports and scholastic achievement, much to the consternation of the Athenians.

Among the activities of the group, which was organized on the Wyoming campus in 1932, are the business meetings and dances which are staged in the Union ballroom every Monday evening. The organization also participates actively in all athletic and social competitive events. Highlighting Spring quarter for the group is the annual picnic.

Along with all of the rush and all of the boning which is necessary at the University of Wyoming Engineering college, the students in the various departments have found time to organize into Engineering societies. One such is the AMERICAN SOCIETY OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERS. Here engineers can gather up those many little items so important to their career which are not always found in the text book, for they can meet here on an equal basis with those old heads in the profession and discuss pros and cons to their hearts content. Any student regularly enrolled in the Mechanical Engineering school is eligible for membership, and finds invaluable guidance for that not so distant future.

RODEO ASSOCIATION

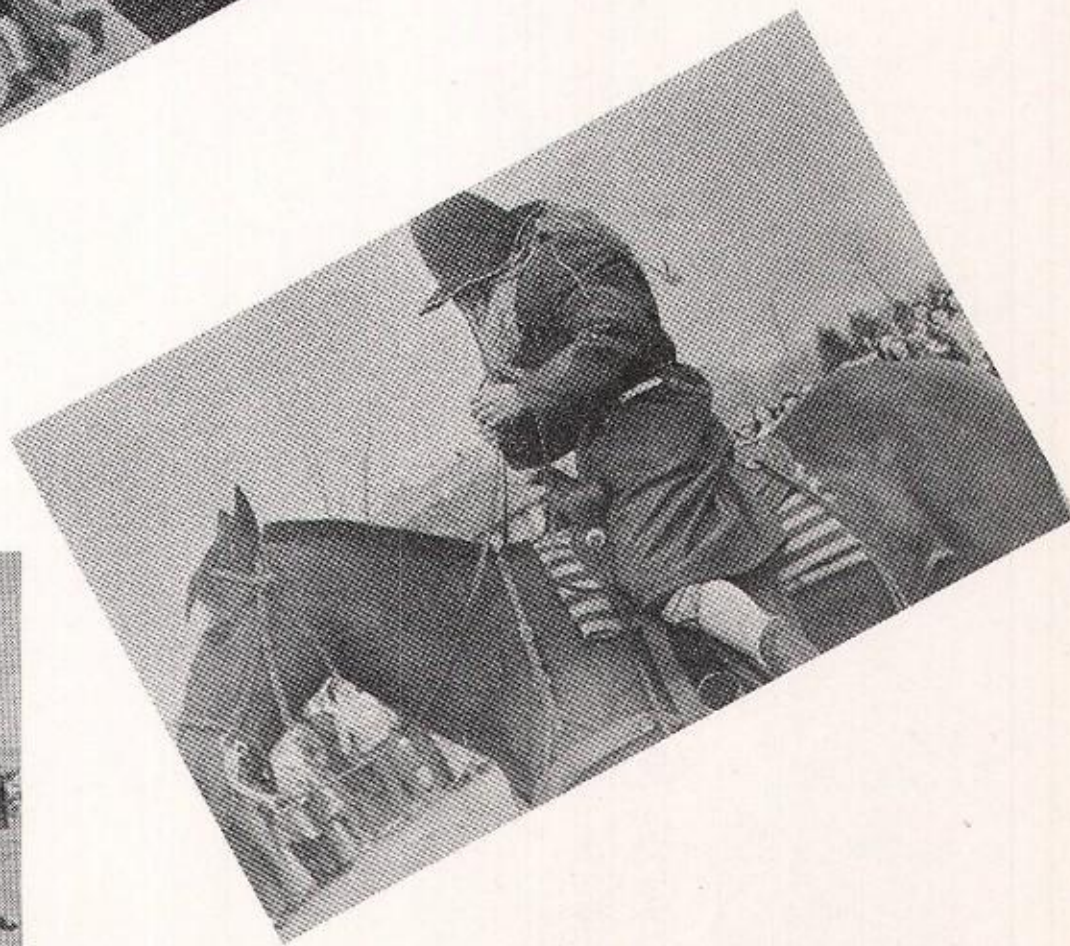

CARL URBIGKIT, President

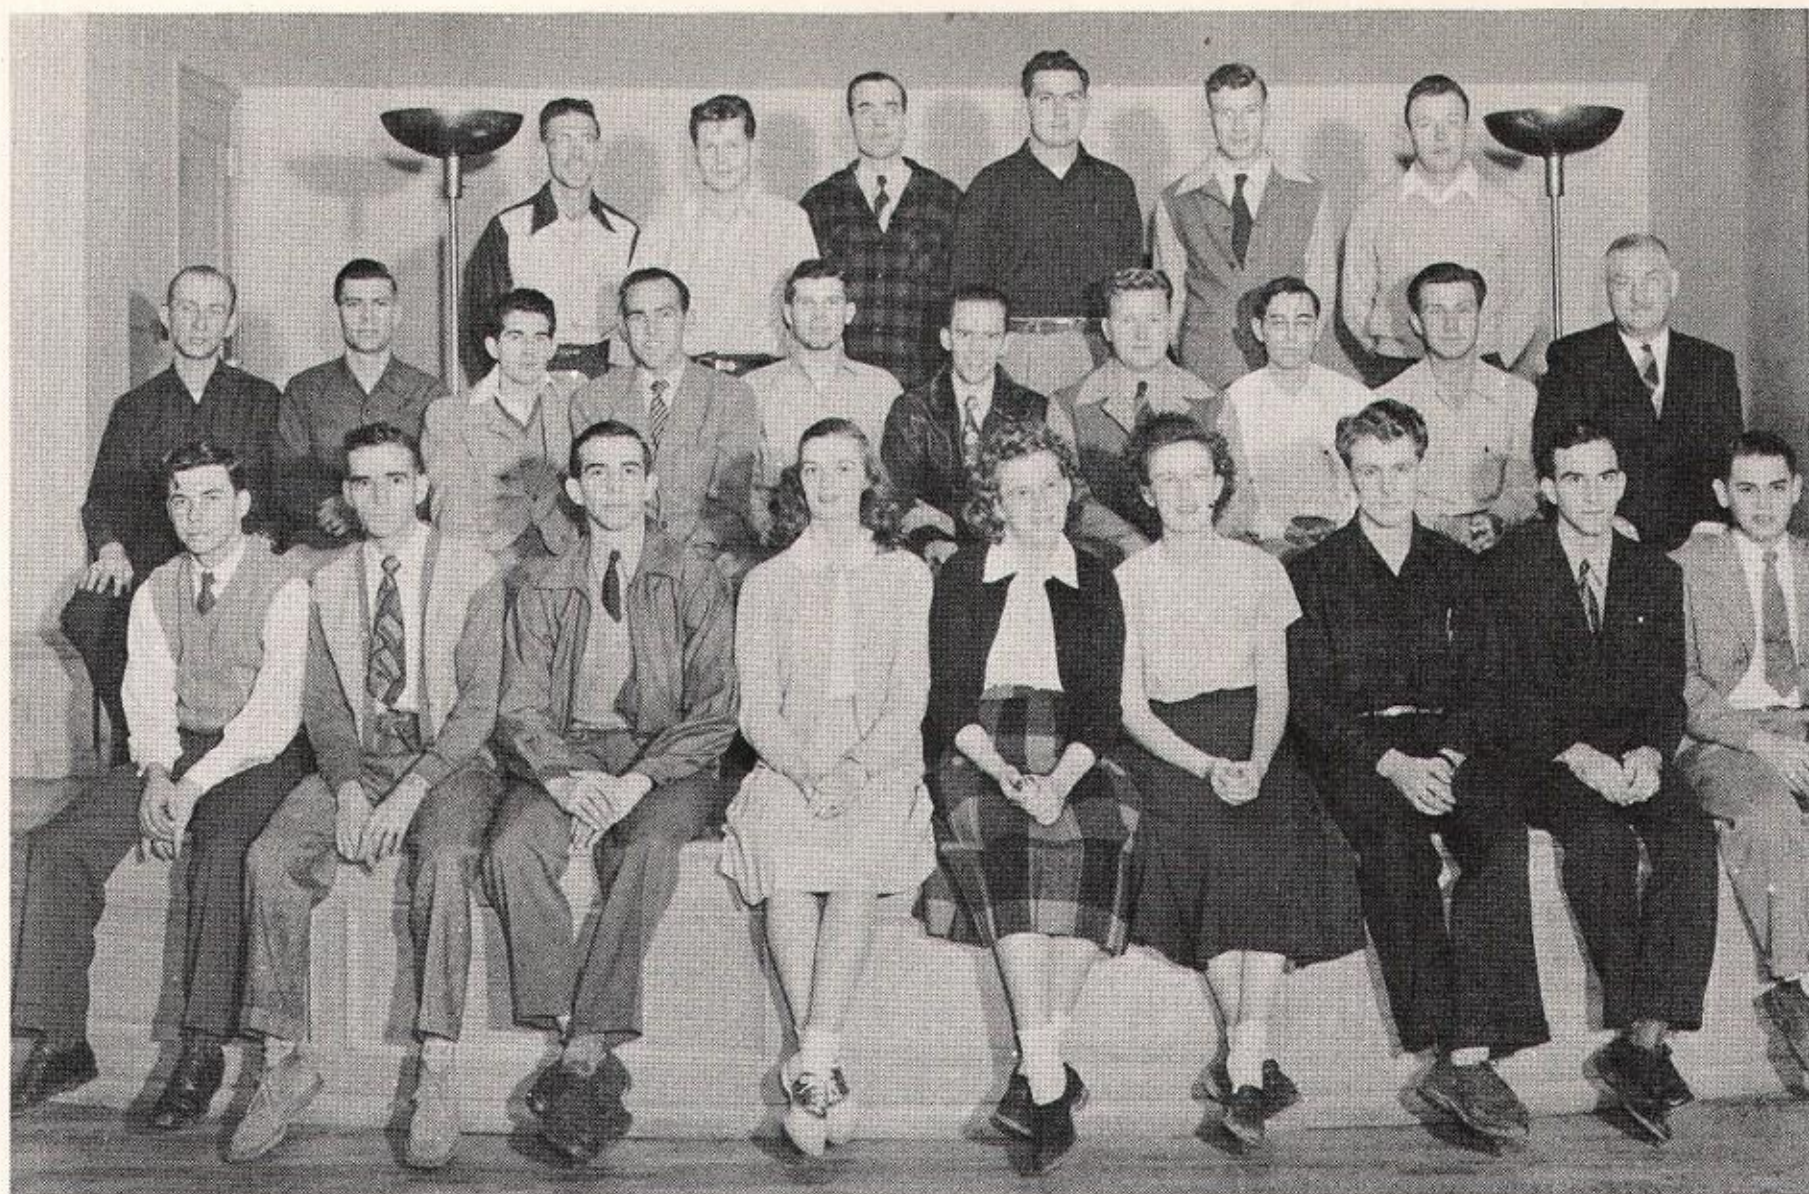

With the dust rising high at the newly established arena, Wyoming's annual intercollegiate Rodeo was one of the big, rip-roaring events of the '46-'47 year. The affair was preceded by an equally rip-roaring parade, one of the finest Rodeo parades which has been put on at Wyoming in many a year. Perfect Rodeo weather favored the undertaking, and some fine stock was furnished by Buck Yarbrough, a long time supporter of these annual "westerns". Officers of the Rodeo Association for the 1947-48 year are Carl Urbigkit, president; George Berger and Richard McDonald, rodeo managers; Marie Hildebrand, secretary-treasurer; and Phyllis Westlake, publicity manager.

PHARMACY CLUB

NED MOSER

A neophyte on the University of Wyoming campus is the Pharmacy Club. Originating in one of the newest departments on the campus, the club was organized only last fall to promote interest in pharmacy. Here we find those people who putter over the test tubes meanwhile keeping their fingers crossed in hope that nothing more than a small dose of arsenic will result. But then, why should they worry . . . somebody else will get it. Under the direction of Mr. O'Day, head of the department, the club choose Ned Moser as their president.

COMMERCE CLUB

The College of Commerce and Industry, not to be outdone by any other College of Anything, has its own "little" club. Anyone enrolled in this branch of the institution is eligible for membership after meeting the requirements. The faculty of this "bouncing baby" college are honorary members of the club and also give out with the advice to their young proteges. Once a year the members take their pencils from behind their ears and throw a party known as the Commerce Carnival. The proceeds of this affair (if there be any such) provide for the annual steak fry for the club.

Chief of the "hunt and peck" personalities is Dick Hall. Vern Hale is vice-president and Lucille Parker has charge of the shorthand notebook (secretary-treasurer, you know).

OUTING CLUB

TINY HAGEN, OUTING CLUB PREXY.

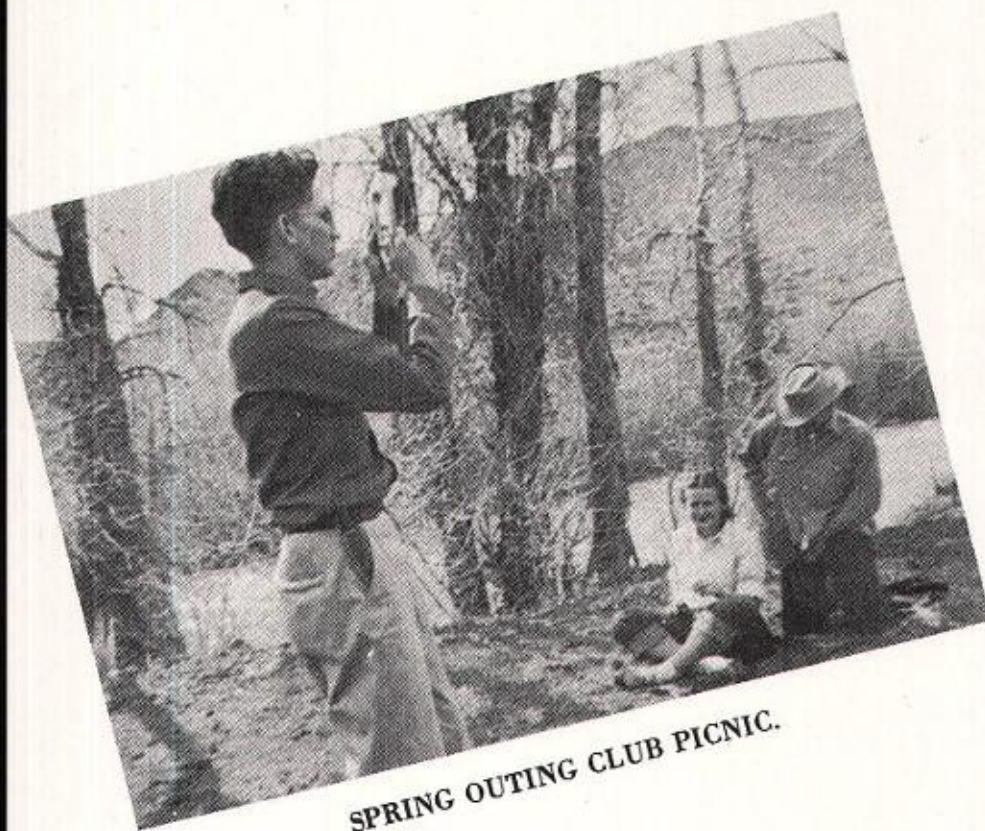

With a cry of "Come, let us all be snowbunnies!" the members of the University Outing Club take to the hills. And with a cry of "Come, let us all break our necks, or at least watch someone else break theirs!" they dash off to the hockey games. All in all the members of the Outing Club seem to have a mighty fine time, whether they are skiing, skating, or square dancing at the Recreation Camp. The group is a reorganization of the University Ski club and was formed by Miss Louise Roloff of the Women's Physical Education department just this fall. The membership is now running well up toward the 400 mark, through the efforts of President Tiny Hagen, and when more people find out about those week-end trips to the "Rec. camp" we bet the membership will soar even higher.

ROGER WILLIAMS CLUB

Don't be surprised if you go wandering by the Baptist service center some Sunday night and hear distinct sounds of jollity issuing forth, for it is probably only the members of the Roger Williams Club enjoying one of their regular get-togethers. These young people who are members of the Baptist Church are organized in interest of both social relationship and religious guidance. The leaders of the group which have been chosen for this year are Wilma Eaton, president; Lois Harrell, vice-president; Melvin Harrell, secretary; and Florence Giles, treasurer.

To the engineers of the world (and for the fourth time) we say, "Hello"! Deisel (it's a joke, son) be the boys, who, in a few years, will bridge the gap to the great unknown in the engineering future and will father those brain children which will try the patience of all non-slide rule users. The A.S.C.E., not to be confused with A.I.E.E., A.S.M.E., W.C.T.U., Y.W.C.A., etc. etc., is an engineering society. Open to students of sophomore standing or above, the society is designed especially for civil engineers and the furthering of their careers through discussion and contact with students and men already established in the field. This year the society has been under the capable leadership of Paul Rechard.

FOLK DANCERS

ED ROBINSON, President.

"Duck for the oyster, dive for the clam ..." or don't you like seafood? In case you don't recognize the above phrases they are square dance calls. However, those who do understand them react by going into a sort of a gymnastic contortion, which is, no doubt, a conditioned response. For these kind of people there is a place on the campus...the Folk Dancers Club. This little organization for promoting exercise to music has made a fine start among the advocates of a strenuous life. We wish them good luck in their fun and frolic, but then there is the sentimental ballad type...

CERATOPSIANS

Those people bounding over rocks at Veedavoo are not mountain sheep. Neither are they tourists just because they go around the campus digging little pieces of rocks out of the buildings. They are Ceratopsians and they like rocks, or at least they should because they are all geology students at the University. Membership in the club is limited to those students who are majoring in Geology and have completed their freshman year. The organization holds bi-monthly meetings at which they discuss all things of geologic bent, but their big "party" is the spring picnic ...out into nature and the rocks.

branch of a national professional society designed to aid engineers in their work through contact and discussion with co-workers. The Wyoming society has functioned this year under the leadership of Fred Berkenkamp.

NEWMAN CLUB

For the Catholic students who attend the University of Wyoming, there is also a club. It is one branch of a wide national organization known as Newman Clubs. Members here may discuss their philosophies, intellectualize, or just plain socialize. The club has many features which are designed to develop all phases of life for these students. The club has an excellent six team bowling league of which they are very proud. Conventions of the clubs in the intermountain region are held yearly. Presiding officer for the year is Clara Maninfior.

FOURTH ESTATE

BEV CARROLL TAKES ORDERS FROM BOB PECK.

With us this year is a group of people who are aspiring journalists. Already they have entered into the spirit of things, as all journalists eventually do, and have sponsored a dance held in the Student Union. Each month the group invites a guest speaker to address the organization at a banquet. Their aims are to further the Journalistic ideals and ideas and to promote interest in the field of their choice. They have chosen as their "moniker" the name of Fourth Estate. President of the organization is Bob Peck.

You can bet that if there is a great big discussion going on about the state of the world in general you have just walked in on a meeting of the International Relations Club, and unless you know whereof you speak, best you sneak out but quick. Under the capable leadership of Jim Couch, the club continues again this year to hold those meetings where the members may discuss thoroughly the international situation between sips of hot coffee.

POTTER LAW CLUB

POTTER LAW PRESIDENT BILL HENDERSON.

Potter Law Club is the University of Wyoming's all-lawyer-embracing association, deriving its name from the Wyoming Supreme Court member and jurist, Charles N. Potter. Homecoming is "the" event of the year for the Lawyers, as for the rest of the student body, when they conduct those all-important elections of the Homecoming Queen. If there is no interference from other sources, the Queen is presented at the annual Homecoming sing and is crowned the following day at the game. It is almost traditional that the Law club wins the award for the most comical float in the Homecoming parade. The barrister's social activities consist of a dinner-dance held winter quarter and a spring picnic.

Current officers of the Potter Law Club are: Wilbur Henderson, chancellor; Robert Burgens, vice-chancellor; and Pat Patterson, secretary-treasurer.

AGRICULTURE CLUB

AG. PREXY MERWIN BOTKIN.

Picks and hoeses and corses with noses are the main interest of the people who make up the membership in the University's Agriculture (commonly referred to by the "demos" as the Ag Club) Organization. This organization is not an honorary, but has as its primary aim the furthering of interest and work in the field of agriculture. It is the amalgamated organization in the University's Agricultural College (which anyone would undoubtedly realize that the students of the University are justly proud of by now) and affords an outside interest for all those who are in the College.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

With an eye to the future (and can't you deny it, gals) the members of the Home Economics club strive to promote professional interest in their field on the campus. Fellowships in the field are one of the finer things sponsored by the group. Their activities include student talent recitals, a community service night, and an annual banquet honoring the senior members of the club. Lois Stockhouse is president of this group.

CANTERBURY CLUB

DOUG JOHNSON, Canterbury Club President.

We don't know if Chaucer and Thomas Beckett belonged to any clubs or not, but if they did we are sure it must have been the Canterbury Club. Seriously speaking, however, there is an organization of the college students belonging to the Episcopal Church at the University of Wyoming which is known as the Canterbury Club. Although the group was inactive during the war years, it has again been activated and has opened the club house it maintains for its members. Meetings are held each Sunday evening at which all problems in which college students would be interested are discussed. The Club elects two members yearly to represent them on SCRO. Doug Johnson is head of the organization.

SCRO

JOHN TOSCANO, President.

With representatives from the many religious organizations on the campus, the SCRO (Student Council of Religious Organizations) is active in the determination of broad overall policy of these groups. Its primary aim is to coordinate the varied religious groups and to centralize them as much as possible in one body. The groups yearly sponsors Religious Emphasis Week, the World Student Service Fund (a very worthy cause let us remind you), and the inevitable dance. The Council sponsors a mass meeting of interested students quarterly.

Those people who run around madly quoting in a monotone the dates of certain (or otherwise) historical dates are very likely to be members of the History club on the campus. The aim of the organization is to encourage the study of history and to bring history majors and minors together socially. The History Club has gained a reputation from the prominent speakers and interesting subjects presented at the meetings. Stress is placed on an historical approach to current events. The club functions this year under the capable gavel of Wiley Beavers.

MODERN MUSIC AND THEATRICAL SOCIETY

"HITCH" DRINKS COKES TOO—

Among the variety known as "new", not in look but in organization, on the campus is that which is known as the Modern Music and Theatrical Society. Organized in the year 1947...remember Moods? ...The Society is beginning to grow on the campus. With Bob Hitchcock holding the reins, the organization is now in the process of producing...along with the Drama department...another show. In shownmanship, one must employ the ex-plaintives, so we will say the proverbial thing...bigger and better than ever before. The society aims to include and interest as many people as possible in those things which are new in music and the theater.

ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS

Including all the female contingent at the University is the AWS, which in plain language means Associated Women Students. The group is organized for the purpose of promoting the interest of the women in scholarship (if possible), and of providing for leadership and companionship. Before graduation each woman student must pass an examination on the AWS handbook (which merely states that if you do that which ain't supposed to be doed...you'll be sorry) and also the group sponsors an assembly each quarter which all women students are required to attend. They also sponsor the annual Freshman Tea in the Union ballroom. Each year, AWS awards Scholarship Cups to the Greek or Independent organizations having the highest grade average.

ENGINEERING SOCIETY

DWIGHT COVINGTON, President.

The College of Engineering Society is composed of students in every branch of engineering; architectural, mechanical, civil, electrical, etc. The principle functions of the organization are the sponsorship of the annual Engineer's Ball and the spring picnic. President of the society this year is Dwight Covington (also Engineer of the Year).

WYOMING STUDENT SOCIETY OF ARCHITECTURAL ENGINEERS

Still another organization on Wyoming's already well organized campus (i.e.... why do we bother with classes) is the comparatively new Wyoming Student Society of Architectural Engineers. This, of course, means just one more organized mass of engineers against another campus group whose name we will refrain from mentioning at this time. The organization is open to all students of architecture on the campus and has at present fifty members. The group has no organized social schedule as yet, but did have a picnic last spring that may one day become traditional. That's springtime in Wyoming in just one six letter word... PICNIC.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

MARIAN SCRIFFIN

Designed especially for those red-blooded young women on the University campus is an organization known as the W.A.A., or more correctly speaking the Women's Athletic Association. These girls participate in every form of athletics from the gentle art of dancing to the very strenuous sport of skiing. Any girl on the University campus enrolled in Physical Education courses is eligible for membership in the organization; and after acquiring a specified number of points for participation in athletic activities may be awarded numerals, letters, or sweaters. The biggest "blow off" for the W.A.A. is the annual playday in which the women athletes of Wyoming match muscles with the women of Colorado colleges. W.A.A. was founded at the University of Wyoming in 1917 and Miss Louise Thouin is their present sponsor.

Then you are eligible for membership in the Jackson Hole Club, newly organized on the campus. Though the club is primarily a social one for its members, it was also planned with the idea of aiding High School students from up in the high country in planning a college program at the University of Wyoming.

HOYT HALL

Once again Hoyt Hall is overcrowded. Hoyt, the oldest living residence on the campus, houses some one hundred and forty eager, bright-eyed freshmen girls. All the conveniences of home complete with points, campuses, nine-thirty curfews, and hot and cold running water make the residents of this academic Alcatraz happy, healthy, and more than a little melancholy about the state of the world in general. (Don't worry, kids, you'll still feel that way when you're older.) However, in spite of all that, friendships and enmities which last throughout the years are formed in dear old Hoyt Hall. Long may she stand! President of the hall is Patsy McCutcheon.

KNIGHT HALL

Knight Hall claims the honor of being the newest of women's residence halls on the Wyoming campus. Approximately 150 women students are crowded into the confines of Knight, named in honor of the University's first Dean of Women, and one may find girls from Knight Hall represented in almost every activity on campus. As yet no one has been able to decide whether the girls are so busy due to interest in activities or join just to be able to go some nice, quiet place (like the Union) and get away from home. Chief problem for the girls is whether to stand in line and wait until they can get to the door to say "goodnight."

Jeanette Minnick presides over the girls in Knight for this year assisted by Peggy Otis, vice-president; and Lois Grandy, treasurer.

WESLEY CLUB

Students at the University of Wyoming who are affiliated with the Methodist Church are organized into a group which is known as the Wesley Foundation. This is a national association and may be found on 180 different campuses over the country. Married students are also included in the activities of the group although they have their own private moniker...the Golden Circle. The group has a Student Center where the members may go for relaxation or study. The club sponsors parties for its members, and also retreats for any students interested.

The Wyoming Sky Broncos were organized in the fall of 1947 to stimulate the interest of students in all phases of aviation. Open to all students who are interested in flying, the organization arranges flying schedules for its members. Many of the Sky Broncos have earned their private flying licenses since joining the club last fall.

Socially, the Wyoming Sky Broncos are in the process of "sprouting their wings." The group's agenda includes plans for a spring dance and other get-togethers.

WESTMINSTER CLUB

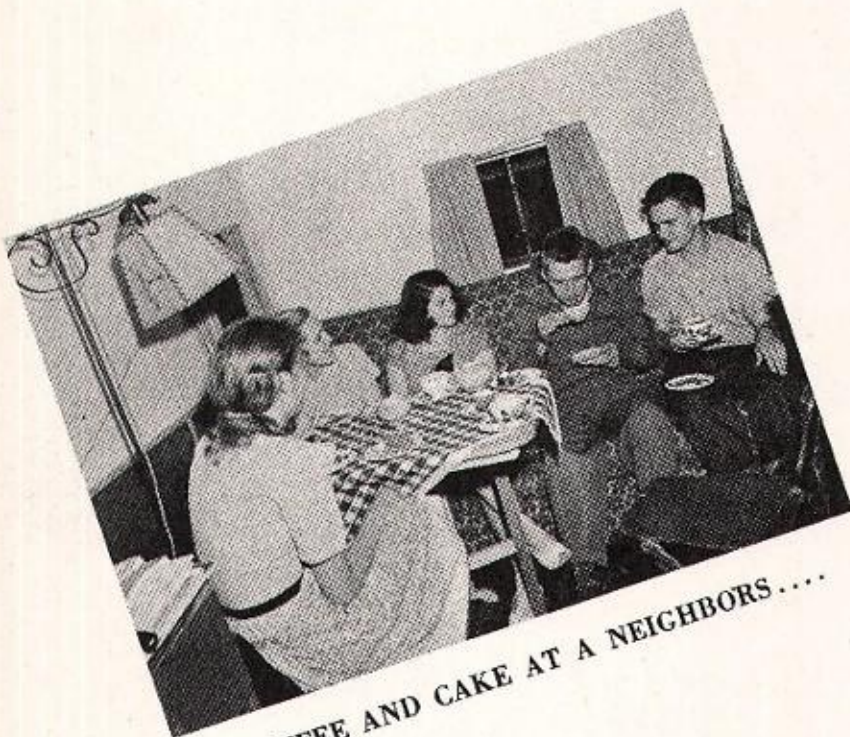

Another of the many religious organizations functioning on the campus of the University is the Westminster Club. Formed for the benefit of members of the Presbyterian Church, the organization's aim is to aid the student members in all phases of their life at the University, and that takes in a great deal of territory. Representatives of the group are an active unit in the SCRO and thus cooperates with all other religious organizations in on and off-campus activities.

Dear Staff Members:

You at the University of Wyoming certainly gave me a hard job this time. Each girl was prettier than the next, and I could just pick three almost as pretty, blindfolded.

However, the three I have chosen are my most considered choice, and I hope you approve.

McKay, perhaps, we should count in
Among our beauty legions,
And Gene Smith takes the laurel wreath
In the A.T. Omic regions.

There's others we could mention here
To make the picture pleasant,
Like Watson (Jean) and Minnehan
And ring-necked (Helen) Pheasant.

But Beauty is its own reward
Or so is often told us—
We'd better call a halt before
No college bounds can hold us.

WHEN YOU GOTTA GO...

HOMECOMING 1947

Once each year the University of Wyoming honors its past, present and future with the celebration affectionately called Homecoming. In the year 1947 this event fulfilled all expectations and any one present fond of fun and excitement would tell you it surpassed all previous celebrations.

The weather, contrary to past records, was perfect. The football team, long may they be remembered with reverence, won the game. The houses, the floats, the coeds, the college Joes, the alumni and the local pubs were in fine form. Spirit ran riot all over the place. (Or should we say spirits)

The festivities began on Friday evening with the annual Homecoming Sing sponsored by the Iron Skull. Before an auditorium filled to overflowing, the independent groups and the fraternities competed for top honors.

In the independent group the girls from Hoyt Hall out sang all other contenders. Runners up were L.D.S. with Knight Hall coping third prize. The Pi Phis giving a "colorful" performance won first in the sorority race. They were followed by the Kappa Gammas in second place. The Tri Delt took third. The ATOs out Whiff-enpooped the Phi Delt and were proclaimed the top singers of the fraternities. The Phi Delt won second place the Sigma Chis were awarded third.

The highlight of the evening came when the Potter Law Club presented the winners in the contest for Homecoming Queen. The top winner was Joy Delatour, Tri Delt, with Florence Bergtanolli Kappa Gamma as lady in waiting. This year the lawyers managed to protect their royalty from the clutches of the engineers and the skeleton remained in the closet.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA—WINNERS OF HOMECOMING SING.

Saturday morning the floats and house decorations, completed with not a little loss of sleep, were exhibited. At ten o'clock the parade started. This was an ordeal of moving slowly up and down the streets of Laramie bearing masses of crepe paper representing—your guess is as good as ours. But the results were beautiful in some cases and entertaining in others and the theme "They gave all for freedom, we give only for a field-house" was aptly put across. The Sigma Chis won praise and prizes with both their float and house decorations and also managed to alienate a few neighbors.

With football taking the limelight in the afternoon the crowd gathered at Corbett Field to see the Cowboys battle Utah State. We won the game—won the game—won the game—get the idea? Every football player became a hero, and Wyoming was again a place where not only basketball is played.

Having a football victory to rave about gave the festivities added momentum and the round of parties, parties, parties continued. For alums there were open houses where a little reminiscing with old school pals could be done. For the students there were also parties—nuf said.

The evening began with a reception for the alumni and another big Homecoming dance for the students and alums. The hard pace was beginning to tell on a few of the weaker souls, but Homecoming is the biggest "never say die" week-end in the year and it was not till the wee hours of the morning that the last of the celebrants wended their weary way homeward.

Known to outing club members for the hand knit socks he wears skiing, Hans Gudbrandsen hails from Oslo, Norway. Hans is a Junior in Civil Engineering.

Napoleon Bazo, of Lima, Peru, is known to U. W. students as Napo. He has been here longer than any other foreign student and is an active participant in campus affairs.

That beaming smile is just a clue to the sparkling personality that belongs to Alfredo Ricketts of Arequipa, Peru. Alfredo is doing more than his share to foster the good-neighbor policy.

Gustavo Rivero of Caracas, Venezuela is one of the many foreign students who came to Wyoming to study Geology.

FOREIGN STUDENTS

If someone should walk up to you with a bright and cheery "Como esta usted?", don't ask him what foreign language he is speaking, for he will undoubtedly be one of the foreign students on the U.W. campus today. The pictures on this page are only a small representation of such students attending the University of Wyoming this year. Others include: Adnan Demiruren, Turkey; Sydney Slen, Canada; Joseph Apao, Hawaii; Joe Bell, Hawaii; Edmund Ross, Hawaii; Glen Trueblood, Alaska; and Gustavo Wiscowitch, Puerto Rico. To these foreign students, their friendliness, and their high scholastic average, let us tip our hats and say, "Tres bon!!"

To substantiate our statement concerning the high scholastic standing, we give you Manuel Zegarra of Arequipa, Peru. He is also entered in Geology.

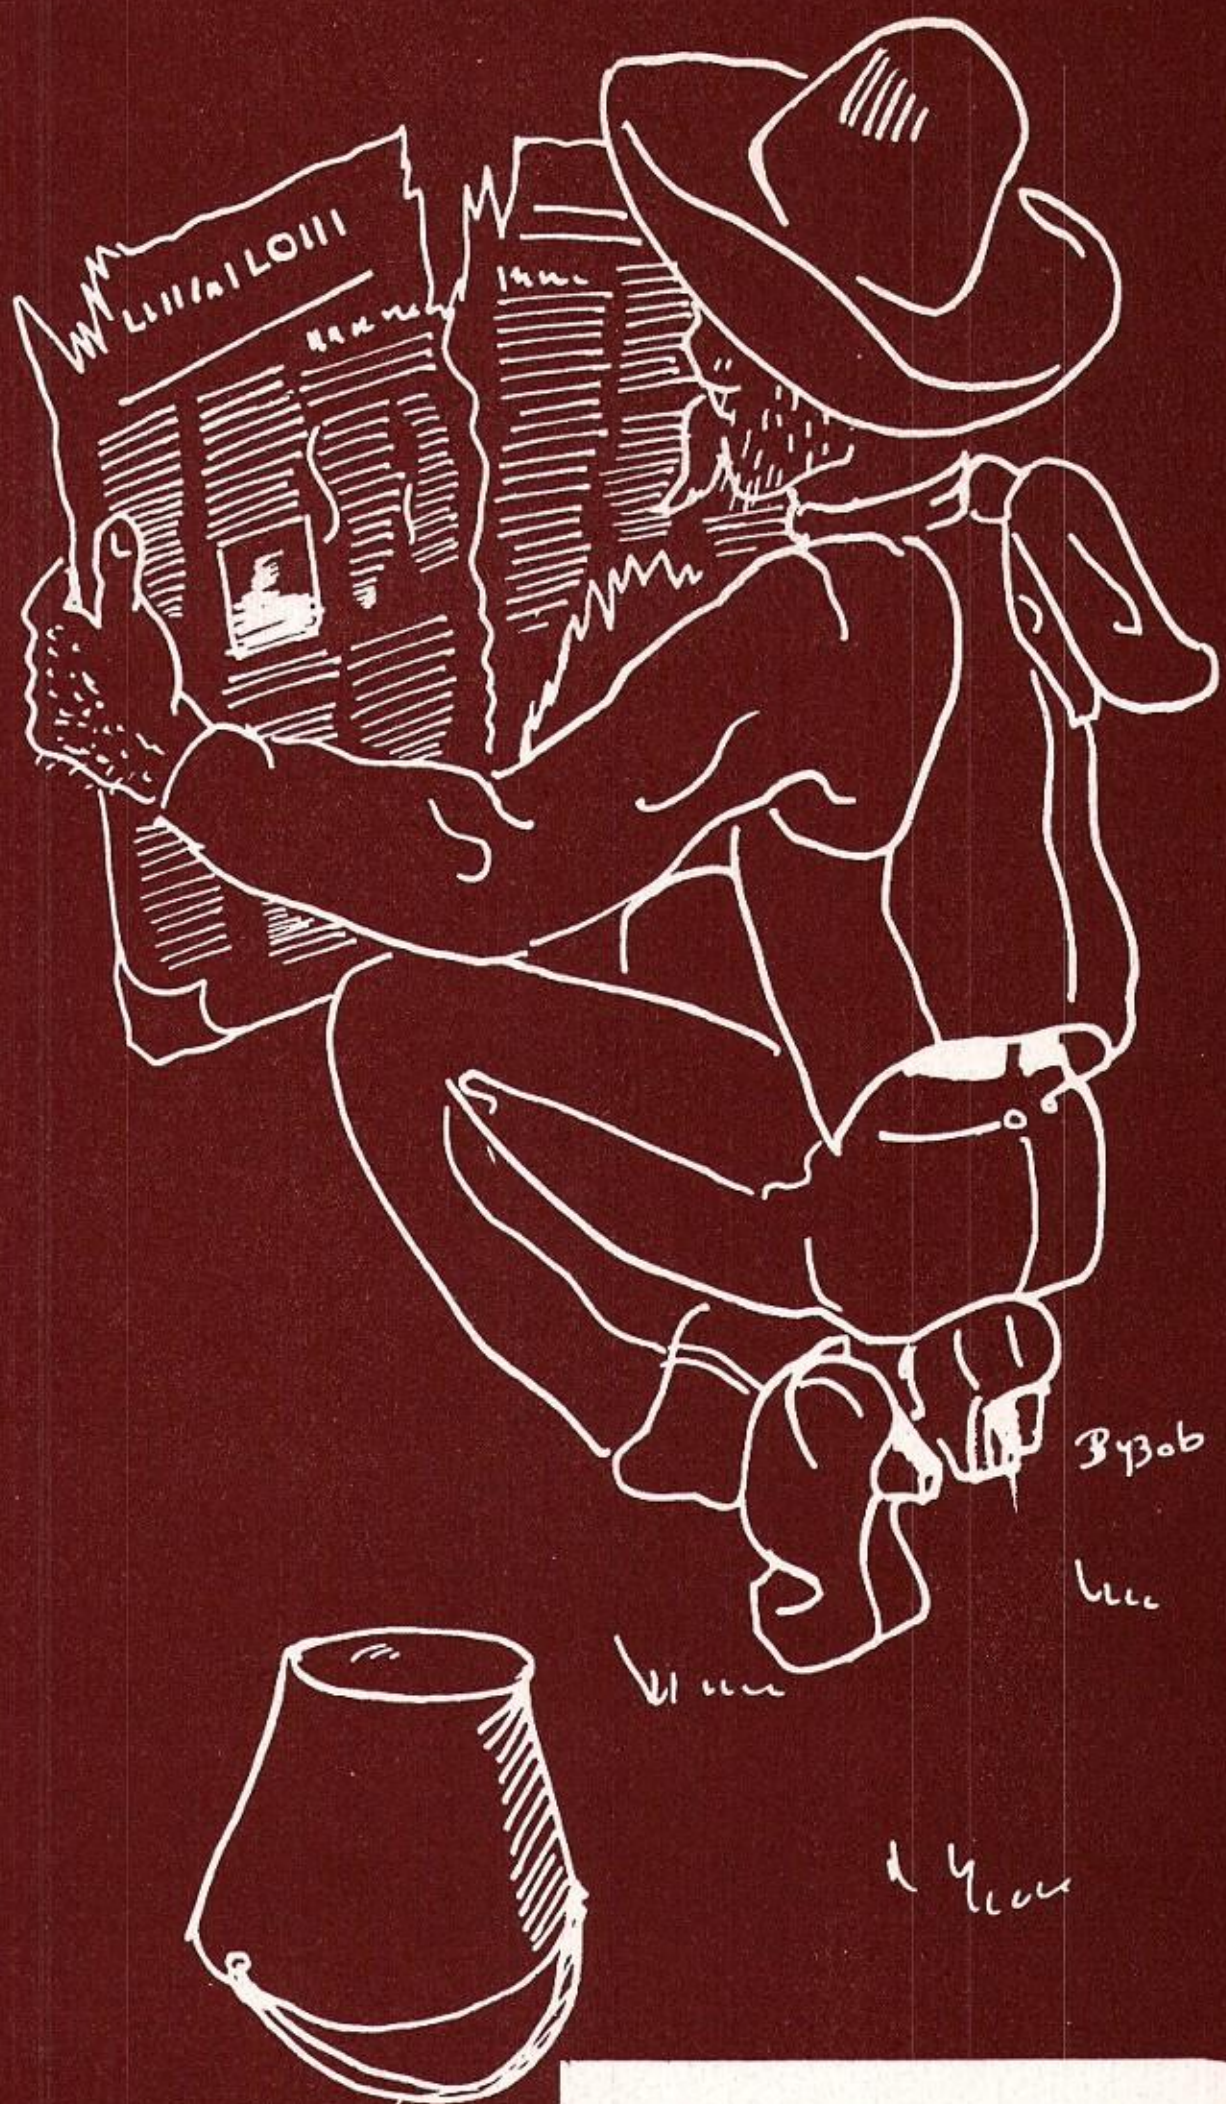

Pedro Correa, a student in animal husbandry, said it wasn't the girls that brought him to Wyoming; it was the wool department. Another of our good neighbors is Mariano Iberico of Miraflores, Peru. Mariano is enrolled in the Geology school.

Chemistry is a great interest of Feng Wai's. She came to Wyoming U. from Shanghai, China on scholarship as a graduate student in that field.

George Allen came here from Calgary, Alberta, Canada. He is a Kappa Sig, and one of the outstanding hockey players on campus.

Richard Redburn, editor of the Branding Iron, took the reins of the campus paper last fall, backed by experience and an iron constitution. Redburn, who is a professional journalism major, is accumulating more than his share of experience in the chaotic atmosphere which prevails in the B.I. office every Tuesday. Dick has succeeded in pulling the B.I. from its sleepy feet and was able to put new life and sparkle into its contents. His controversial editorials were the cause of much campus comment.

BRANDING IRON

B.I. business manager, Francis Thornton, expects to enter the field of science advertising where he will be able to use his engineer's background and B.I. experience. Thornton, an advertising salesman, contracts ads, keeps finances of the red and fights with Redburn for more ad space. Francis spends his spare time collecting cigarette testimonials. "to bigger and better B.I. business." is ably assisted by Shirley Day.

BILL QUINN, B.I. CIRCULATION MANAGER, AND FRANCIS THORNTON, ADVERTISING MANAGER.

B.I. stands not for "bashful imbecile" not "brainless industry" ... but for Branding Iron. Rating high in Journalistic achievement and student criticism, the paper keeps its staff and those "big wheels" Redburn and Schwiering in a constant state of frustration. B.I. day (we love to spend each Thursday with you-all) brings a happy confusion to the campus and toward the end of the day one may find old unread newspapers flung casually into every corner where a student may wander. Oh well, fellas, try again next week.

ANN SCHMIDT, EDITOR

Softspoken, friendly, but always firm, Ann Schmidt took over the "WYO". She picked her staff, rolled up her sleeves and started to work. It took endurance, stubbornness, and a multitude of other factors to make the book a reality, but Ann always kept the respect of her staff. Even when volunteer workers were hard to find, Ann found them from her many friends. Everyone on the staff strived to please the "boss", so that she and the students could be proud of this book.

It wasn't easy for Ann. She had to fight, talk, and fight some more, for what she wanted and needed to make a good annual. She came through with this year-book, and even more friends than before, an accomplishment worthy of mention in any language, which leaves very little more to say except, "CONGRATULATIONS", from

WALLACE R. BIGGS,
WYO ADVISOR

BILL QUINN, ASSISTANT EDITOR

Better known as the "good humor man" on the 1948 WYO staff, Bill Quinn contributed to this year's edition of the annual much more than his share of "blood, sweat, and tears." The fact that Bill maintained both his sense of humor and equilibrium amid the clatter of typewriters, the gripes of the people, and the disappointments of being able to find no other place to work than under a table, speaks volumes more than a humble typewriter could ever express. Let it suffice to say, though the inadequacy of the statement is appalling, that Bill measured up to the standards of coming, seeing, and conquering, and of being a swell guy to boot!

Taking over the job as Business Manager of the 1948 "WYO" in January, due to "creeping lethargy", a disease which struck the former Business Manager, Warren Hagist personified the "Trojan Workhorse". He organized, and collected advertising and did a remarkable job. His constant plugging, hard work and "die hard" attitude helped as much as anything to make this book possible.

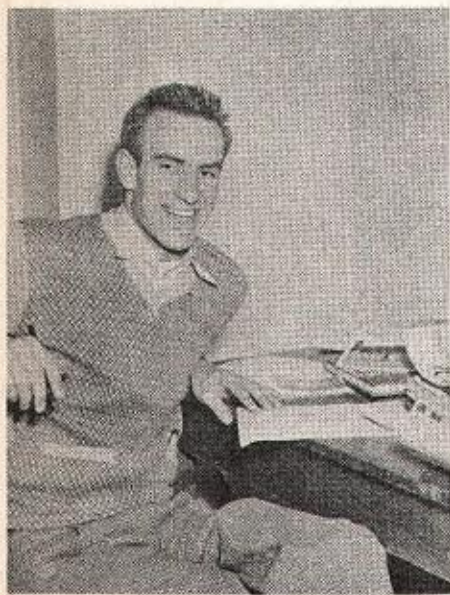

Warren is just a Sophomore, who believes in doing his work thoroughly and well. The University of Wyoming, in our opinion, is fortunate in having Warren for two more years. He can be depended upon—a rare attribute to be encouraged.

IT'S A SAD—SAD—SAD—WORLD—

This is the hard-working WYO staff who succeeded in meeting the first deadline, a rare accomplishment for U.W. yearbook staffs. Extremely limited space did not hinder the determination of the staff to produce the largest WYO ever to be presented to the students of the University of Wyoming.

Realizing that a growing University deserves a greater yearbook, the 1948 WYO staff pooled their ideas and physical efforts in the production of this 4½ pound record of life on the Cowboy campus. We hope you are able to recapture the joys and sorrows of every ounce of it!

For Puncher relaxation,
For fear the stars have left the sky
Before their damp elation.

And Prexy in his cloistered halls
Dreams of his lads and lasses,
While 'tenders stand aghast—appalled—
A-counting smashing glasses.

The names we would have mentioned here
Are clear to all who know them,
But mention of the love for beer
Is grounds for writer's mayhem.

We'd mention B. J., Patty, Vance,
(We've strained for this one)—Mavis,
And simply can't resist the chance
To bring in Johnny Davis.

For John we know would not resent
The use of his cognomen,
Since many's the talk we've had with him
While "Roamin' in the Gloamin'."

THOSE TWO ARE AT IT

TO ALL THOSE WHOSE EFFORTS WERE COMBINED IN THE PRODUCTION OF THE 1948 WYO.

To Associate Editor Bill Quinn... whose enthusiasm, persistence and sense of humor are reflected in the pages of the '48 WYO.

To Copy Editor Mary Jean Wolf... whose conscientious and efficient job brought a new and fresh turn to yearbook copy. To copy writers Joe Harmon, whose poetry added flavor to the Western theme, and to Mary Ann Foreman and Nancy Marston whose remarks injected much of the personality.

To Division Editors, Glen Dalrymple, V. J. Reckling, Peggy Hitchcock, Sports Editor Bob Peck, and their assistants, camera-shy Mary Borchsenius, Keating Murphy, Betty Lou Smith, Jan Staley, Phyllis Delaney, Jeannette McCarthy, Betty Joslin, Frances Clark, Pat Harrison, Lucille Clarke, Carol Algier, Nan Vicars, Jackie Ann Abbott and all the others whose names would require another page.

To Susie Bane, Photographic Secretary and Index Editor, who worked and worked and worked... and to Mrs. Bane, No. 1 Morale Booster.

To Vern Vivion and the Photographic staff... Don Leiber, Harry Brockley, Al Cross, Frank Hadsell and Phil Yarter.

To Lay-Out Staff, Jim Parkins, Jim Griffith and Keith Algier who drew their trusty rulers and fought their way through miles of lay-out sheets.

To Warren Hagist's Advertising staff including Bryce and Barbara Reeve, Ed Lorenzen, Beverly Lyon, Lois Ann Janowski, Edith Sardini, Jack Utzinger and Pat Fitch... whose hard work helped to make the WYO a financial success.

To WYO morale boosters, W. R. Biggs, Mel Fillerup, Bob Murphy, Dean A. L. Keeney, Doyle Quiley, C. B. Jensen, and to Felix Jones of the Bradford-Robinson Company... for his untiring aid and direction (The "eye" of and on the WYO.)

To staff artists Bob Dunning for his division page characters... to "Spook" Felker for his imaginative sketches... to Ken Nielsen for his "Deadline" aid... to Harold Van Borkum for the cover design... and to Jean Christensen for art staff organization.

Thanks for the 1948 WYO!
